FILL VACANCY AT FALL ELECTION

WAIT TILL NOVEMBER

Successor to Congressman Reavis Not to Be Named Until Date of Regular Election Next Fall.

DECISION ANNOUNCED AFTER CONSULTATION

Attorney General Says Candidates May Run For Both the Full Term and to Fill Existing Vacancy.

BARROWS FIRST TO FILE.

Lieutenant Governor P. A. Barrows, who is already a candidate in the republican primary for the regular term as congressman in the First district, filed his application with the clerk of Lancaster county Wednesday afternoon as a candidate for the unexpired part of the term of Congressman C. F. Reavis, resigned.

Regular congressional filings are made in the secretary of state's office, but Mr. Barrows interprets the law to require a filing for the short term with county clerks. He will probably do the same in each of the other six counties of the district.

Nomination and election of a congressman in the First district to fill the vacancy, due to the resignation of Congressman C. F. Reavis will be accomplished in the same manner as the selection of other congressmen, by nominating candidates at the July primaries and electing one of them in November. Announcement to this effect was made by Governor McKelvie, following a conference Wednesday morning with Attorney General Davis, who outlined two methods of procedure which might be followed. The alternative plan was to call a special election, which involved the nomination of party candidates either through the holding of conventions or by party committees.

"I believe that nominations in the primary, leaving the candidates to be voted for at the general election, is the most practicable way to fill the vacancy," Governor McKelvie stated to newspaper men.

"So far as party convention or committee nominations are concerned, I do not believe that any political party has an organization in the First Congressional district which could qualify under the statute, if a special election were called. The third party, perhaps, could come nearer doing so than either of the others."

Will Amend Proclamation.

The governor will enange his primary proclamation, issued several weeks ago by inserting in the list of offices to be filled that of congressman in the First district for the vacancy now existing. This means that there will be two places on the ballot where names of congressional candidates will appear—one under a heading for the regular two-year term, which begins March 4, 1923, and the other for the remainder of the present term ending on that date.

Under this arrangement, the vacancy will remain unfilled until the November election. Congress may be in session a part of the intervening time, but it is not likely that a new member from this district could do much more than draw his salary in the brief period which he might serve.

Democratic critics of Governor McKelvie charge that he was afraid to call a special election because it would be likely to return a democratic congressman and thus injure republican prospects in the general election, not only in Nebraska but over the country. They intimate that he and Attorney General Davis were influenced by this consideration in their handling of the matter.

"That's all bush," declared Davis. The republican party would just as soon have the election take place place tomorrow or any other time, and we would win no matter when it is held.

"The question simply resolved itself down to this: If the choice of candidates is to be left to the voters of each party, the election of a short term congressman must come at the regular election in November. The primary law does not apply in case a special election is called."

Can Run for Both Terms.

Responding to a query, Mr. Davis said he would advise the secretary of state to accept all filings for Brown's parlors pending funeral arrangements.

Injuries Received In Beauty Shop are Considered Serious

MARION, N. C., June 7—Mrs. J. G. Baman is in a critical condition today at a local hospital as the result of injuries suffered in a beauty parlor here when all of her hair and more than half the scalp were torn from her head when her hair became entangled in an electrically operated curling machine.

HOT DAYS START MAD DOG SCARE

Numerous Reports To Humane Society On Ill-Tempered Dogs.

Organization Has New Method Of Dealing With Complaints.

These first hot days are not dog days, but they have started the annual mad dog alarms over the telephone that leads to the humane society. In fact this season seems to be a bad one for dogs generally. Every day brings complaints of vicious, biting dogs and the humane society has a half dozen of them now and gets as many more each week.

The prevalence of ill-tempered dogs is unsual according to C. E. McClain of the humane society, and he is holding those canine that have bitten people for fifteen days before disposing of them to make sure that no epidemic of rabies has developed. It was once customary to hunt down and dog suspected of being mad to kill it instantly, but now the humane society keeps such an animal fifteen days to discover any signs of rabies and then does away with it if it proves to be infected or vicious.

More than thirty dogs are boarding at the humane society's pond waiting for foster masters. Half as many cats are there also. But strangest of all are three calves found wandering and disconsolate near Fourteenth and R streets and a young coyote from the streets of West Lincoln.

WIFE WILLING TO DIVORCE HUSBAND

Mrs. Stokes Says He Is Favoring Her By Asking for Decree.

Each Party Claims Desertion Upon Part of the Other.

Mr. Stokes is favoring me by getting a divorce as he has never done anything for me. Please grant him a divorce so I may be free and stop carrying his name. I won't live with him now for I don't want anyone who don't want me."

Thus wrote Mrs. Mary Stokes, of Indianapolis, Ind., wife of L. B. Stokes, Lincoln hotel porter, whose trial for divorce was held before District Judge W. M. Morning. Mrs. Stokes was notified that her husband had instituted a divorce action against her and wrote a letter to the court.

Mr. Stokes testified his wife deserted him in December, 1918. They were married at Indianapolis, July 1, 1915, and soon after moved to Lincoln. Stokes said his wife did not like Lincoln and refused to return to him.

"To be frank, he deserted me," wrote Mrs. Stokes. Her letter stated that he had sent her home to visit her parents, refusing to send for her later. He never answered her letters and when he visited her in Indianapolis in June, 1921, he gave her $5 of $600 which he had but only after she cried, the letter stated. They had no domestic troubles which they were living in Lincoln and both were loving and kind. Mrs. Stokes said she believed her husband either got tired of married life or found someone else he cared more for.

Mr. Stokes admitted he had lived with his wife last summer. This fact spoiled his chances of claiming his wife had deserted him, the judge told Stokes. Also, he should have been willing to take his wife back, he was told. When the judge mentioned reconciliation Stokes said he did not want his wife back. The judge took the case under advisement, but intimated Stokes had not proven his charge of desertion, even though both he and his wife wanted a divorce granted.

CLAIMS HE SAW BROWN IN CITY

Officers Search Neighborhood Near Rock Island Following Report.

Omaha Police Think Desperado Stole Ford Coupe There Tuesday.

Lincoln police officers staged a search at 1:26 a. m., Wednesday in the vicinity of Twenty-first and M streets, following a tip received from a man who said he knew Fred Brown the bandit, and who claimed to have identified a suspect at that point, as Brown. They were unable to locate the fugitive. Color was lent the report by a message from Omaha that Brown was supposed to have stolen an automobile there Tuesday night.

According to State Sheriff Gus Hyers, a Ford coupe belonging to B. W. Hall, 6111 Military avenue, Omaha, was stolen sometime Tuesday night. The license number is 1-14358 and the motor number 5532145. Sheriff Hyers, as well as the Omaha police are of the opinion that the car was taken by the elusive Brown. The left window door on the car is broken according to Mr. Hall.

The theft of two quilts Tuesday night from the Anderson Dairy barn at Benson is also credited to Brown, according to the state sheriff. Sheriff Hyers also reported that Brown slept in a new hay shed, four miles north of Irvington, Neb., near Benson, on Monday night.

Officers Beals, Rymer, Knepper, Longstreth and Special Agent Marcney of the Burlington conducted the search at 1:29 a. m., Wednesday around Twenty-first and M streets for several hours but were unable to find anyone.

The police continued to receive reports Wednesday morning from people who thought they had seen Brown. A number of tramps were arrested during the morning, as the result of such calls.

HAVELOCK GIRLS FOUND IN OMAHA

Emma Lutje Married and Katherine Returns With Parents.

(Associated Press.)

OMAHA, June 7.—Katherine Lutje, daughter of E. F. Lutje of Havelock, missing since May 6, with her sister Emma, 17, returned home with her parents today, police reported, after she and John Hidy, with whom she is said to have been found, had been booked for investigation. Hidy, however, was later released with the girl.

Lutje's daughter, Emma, her father learned, was married here yesterday to Andrew Jackson, 22. She has been living with a sister in Omaha.

At the time the Lutje girls disappeared, their father reported the matter to Sheriff Miller and asked his aid in locating them. Nothing further was heard about them until the Omaha dispatch was received telling that they had been found there. So far as could be learned, Mr. Lutje and his daughters had not yet reached home early Wednesday afternoon.

Charges Dealers Refuse to Sell If Unions Employed

WASHINGTON, June 7.—A complaint was made to Attorney General Daugherty today by Frank Morrison, secretary of the American Federation of Labor, against the alleged refusal of certain building material dealers in San Francisco to sell to firms employing union labor.

Mr. Morrison presented letters from the brick layers, masons and plasterers interested in the union naming industrial association of San Francisco as representing the employers association in the alleged boycott of construction jobs employing union labor, and other firms and organizations which were charged with specific instances of discrimination.

GIVES SECRET OF HAPPY MARRIAGE

Judge Morning Says Young People Must Overlook Faults.

Divorces Come When Couples Have Not Learned to Live Together.

District Judge W. M. Morning told members of the Pathfinder club a few things about boys and girls and the obligations of the home at the Wednesday noon meeting of the club at the Grand hotel and made them realize more than ever the importance of clean living and maintaining high ideals in life.

"The trouble with most young married people who find their way into the divorce court after three or four years of married life is that they haven't learned to live together," he said. "They get married on the theory that they've found the ideal partner and it isn't more than twenty-four hours before they find faults. Then they are not wise enough to make the best of it, to realize that no one is perfect and that they must forgive and forget the other's faults."

Judge Morning went into the problem of the boy, his instincts and desires as he becomes a man, and the duty of fathers and mothers to direct the boy's life in the right channels. Also the girl, her temptations and dangers. He drew from his own experience in the juvenile court and court of domestic relations for pointed illustrations.

"We have to literally clean up the home many times," he said. "Take away the children and put a representative of the court in the home to teach the mother how to cook and keep house and to put the father to work and make him provide the necessities for his family besides mere food. Such people are not poverty stricken, they're just shiftless. They think that if they feed their children that's the end of their obligations.

Judge Morning deplored the fact that there is at present no hospital or place in Lincoln to send fallen girls for care and medical treatment.

U. S. Enterprise Blamed for Heat Wave In England

LONDON, June 7. — Britain's heat wave is blamed today on American enterprise.

Prof. John Harrison of Clappam observatory states that the Key West railroad built across the keys in the Gulf of Mexico by the Clager interests, is causing a gradual change of course of the gulf stream, sending it nearer to England and thus causing warmer summers.

WILL NOT INTERFERE

Governor McKelvie to Take No Steps to Prevent Execution of James B. King Friday at Penitentiary

CURRIER DUE TO ARRIVE THURSDAY

Boston Man Will Go Over Death Chair to See That Mechanism Is In Working Order.

There will be no executive interference with the carrying out of the death penalty on James B. King at the penitentiary next Friday. Governor McKelvie made this positive statement Wednesday morning in his conference with press representatives.

"I have not been asked by anyone to stay the sentence," said the governor in answer to a question, "but if it is necessary to issue any warning in that regard all who may be interested can be advised that I shall do nothing to prevent the execution."

Mr. McKelvie had one experience in granting reprieves to Cole and Grammer, which resulted in their attorneys' holding off the death penalties by various legal artifices for a year and a half. He has no intention of giving the lawyers another such opening in King's case.

Executioner E. B. Currier of Boston will arrive in Lincoln at 10:45 Thursday morning. During the day he will go over the electrical mechanism and connections for the death chair and will test everything to see that it is in proper working order. He officiated at the execution of Cole and Grammer in December, 1920.

King will be taken to the electric chair and put to death on Friday, between 10 a. m. and 4 p. m. Only such persons as may be designated by himself and by Warden Fenton, to a limited number, will be admitted.

The condemned negro has made no further request of the warden since a few days ago, when he asked to have plenty of bananas and cigarets furnished him in the interim before the execution.

CITY OFFICIALS NOT TALKATIVE

No Comment On Possible Merger Of Gas and Street Car Companies.

City officials who read the announcement of the possible merger of the Traction and Gas companies in The Star Tuesday night, had had little if any advance information on the matter. They manifested considerable interest in the suggestion but declined generally to comment or if commenting to be quoted in regard to the matter.

From reliable sources it was learned that figures on the saving in overhead that would be effected if the consolidation took effect would be between $55,000 and $75,000 a year. This in excess of any saving that might result from the elimination of the duplication and the efficiency that would result mechanically from one central plant.

The city itself is entering rather extensively into the lighting field and holds a power to issue bonds for a gas plant. It has not anticipated entering competition in the street railway field although the proposal to buy the present Traction company plant was once suggested and favored by Mayor Miller. The city is more nearly at peace with both utility companies than it has been for many years and will take no hand in the matter now.

CITY POOL READY BUT WATER COOL

Municipal Swimming Resort Opens Friday Or Saturday.

The municipal swimming pool will be opened either Friday or Saturday according to information from the city engineer's office and the pool officials. Monday and Tuesday were used to clean and patch cracks in the big basin and Tuesday night the water was turned into it. Wednesday morning it looked ready for use but the temperature of the water was not high enough to be comfortable.

T. L. Mead, who is to be in charge of the pool this summer, is already at his office at the park and will have things ready to take care of the first Sunday crowd. The admission will remain the same as last year, but the additional facilities will enable a large number of people to take advantage of the city's pool. The admission fee is ten cents and other charges are 10 cents for a suit, 5 cents for a towel and 5 cents for a locker.

MILITARY SERVICE FOR MISS RUSSELL

Honors of Soldier Will Be Accorded Actress at Funeral Thursday.

Was Sergeant In Marine Corps During War—Broadway Is Stilled.

(International News Service.)

PITTSBURGH, June 7.—Aside from the ritual of the Episcopal church which will be read at 2:30 o'clock tomorrow at old Trinity church here, a military funeral will be accorded Lillian Russell Moore. A detachment of Marines will act as casket bearers and the 107th field artillery veterans of Pittsburgh will be the escort.

Miss Russell was a non-commissioned officer in the United States marine corps and she also recruited many men for the Pittsburgh artillery unit at the outbreak of the war. She also gave the regiment its colors.

Honorary pallbearers will be Secretary of Labor James J. Davis, United States Senator Hiram W. Johnson, Representative Stephen G. Porter, Mayor William A. Magee, J. L. Livermoore of New York; Howard Chandler Christy, New York; E. F. Albee, president of the National Vaudeville association, New York; R. H. Burnside, New York; former State Senator William Flynn, Clarence Burleigh, O. S. Hershman and E. M. O'Neill, of Pittsburgh.

A flood of messages of sympathy continued to pour in at the Moore home today. Secretary of the Navy Edwin L. Denby, at sea, wirelessed this one:

"Deepest sympathy. The country and the marine corps cannot forget Mrs. Moore's great help during the war."

Broadway Pauses a Bit.

(Associated Press.)

NEW YORK, June 7.—Broadway—the great white way—paused a bit today, forgot its "small talk" and in reminiscences of the past, paid rare tribute to Lillian Russell, the blonde beauty who never grew old and who is dead at her home in Pittsburgh.

In quiet corners of the clubs, old timers recalled memories of the music hall on Broadway, where Lillian Russell played in the days of Weber and Fields. It wasn't the Broadway of today, but a simpler Broadway—when Thirty-fourth street was the center of the "White Lights."

Lillian's last appearance on the Broadway of 1922 was on April 24, when she sang at a public celebration at the Palace.

Officially, tribute is being paid by the professional word through their clubs. The Lambs, the Players club, the National Vaudeville association, the Green Room club and others, will be represented at the funeral in Pittsburgh on Thursday.

But, one of the deepest tributes of all came from an old doorman, who, for forty years, has watched, from his perch under the single light of Manhattan stage doors, the comings and goings of stars.

"Lillian Russell is dead, I see," he said. "There was a wonderful woman. A big star, and not temperamental. The most beautiful woman I ever knew, and still as friendly as any one on earth. There wasn't a theatre in all the hundreds she played where the 'back stage people' didn't love her."

Store Owner is Advised He Has Been Zoned Out

Comparatively few people are visiting the office of the zoning expert in the city hall. Those who do are about equally divided between support and opposition for the measure. One inquiry by C. I. Cline who owns a store at 2257 Holdrege street as to whether he was zoned in or out, resulted in his good natured acceptance of the information that he was zoned out, while another with little if any property in the locality that would be effected, objected violently to the way North Twenty-seventh street has been zoned. G. E. Melville, engineer left here in charge to answer questions is anxious that all who are uncertain just what zoning has done or will do to their property, pay him a visit on the second floor of the city hall.

HAS NO POWER TO INTERVENE

Law Does Not Provide Way for Hoover to Terminate Strike.

Efforts and Suggestions Made But Have Been Without Result.

(Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, June 7.—Secretary Hoover, (commerce) in a report to the senate today disclosed that he and Secretary Davis (labor) had sought to present recently suggestions which it had been hoped would lead to a settlement of the coal strike, but so far their efforts had been without result.

The commerce secretary's statement, which was the first disclosure that the government had sought to intervene in the struggle between the mine workers and operators was contained in a response to the resolution by Senator Walsh, democrat Massachusetts, adopted by the senate several days ago, calling for information regarding the coal situation.

Replying to the inquiry in the Walsh resolution as to "what action, if any, government agencies have taken to terminate the strike," Mr. Hoover said:

"The governmental agencies have no legal authority to terminate or to intervene in the strike. Quite informally and repeatedly suggestions as to propositions on which the disputants might well confer and hopes for settlement have been made through the department of labor and this department, or both, but thus far the suggestions have been without result."

WINS HIS SUIT AGAINST COUNTY

Jury Awards Hilbert W. Gotfredson Damages In Sum of $250.

Judgment against Lancaster county for $250 was awarded Hilbert W. Gotfredson by the jury in the district court trial of Gotfredson's $2,000 damage suit against the county, commissioners, engineer, state engineer, and Peterson & Gunther, contractors. Under direction of the court, the jury found in favor of all the defendants except the county.

A road, consisting of about two acres, was cut through Mr. Gotfredson's farm, in the southeast corner of College View, last year on the College View to Bennet federal aid project to bring the road up to a permanent grade. The county claimed it had condemned and paid for the strip thirty-five years ago, but had not made use of it until last year.

TO CONSOLDATE ARMY SCHOOLS

(Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, June 7.—Decision to concentrate all field artillery schools at Fort Sill, Okla., was announced today by Secretary Weeks who approved that feature of the report of a board of officers appointed to study the army school system and make recommendations for elimination of duplication in courses and a reduction of administrative costs.

Under the new orders the artillery officers "basic school" at Camp Knox, Ky., and the artillery field officers' school at Camp Bragg, North Carolina, will go to Fort Sill where schools for battery officers and enlisted specialists already are located.

The lighter-than-air schools will be encentrated at Scot ield, Belleville, Ill. Technical schools for the air service will be located at Chanute field, Illinois, while the air school for field officers will remain at Langley field.

WILL PICK CANDIDATE

Custer County Republican Leaders Arrange Conference to Choose Between Amsberry and Humphrey.

MAY DECIDE TO SIDETRACK BOTH

F. M. Currie Given Consideration in Settling On Candidate to Replace Uncle Mose Kinkaid — Would Avoid Split.

Either Secretary of State D. M. Amsberry or A. R. Humphrey, assistant in the congressional library at Washington, will be eliminated from the Sixth district race for congress in a conference of Custer county republican leaders to be held at Broken Bow, which is the home of both men.

It is possible that the conference may decide that both Amsberry and Humphrey should step aside and that F. M. Currie, former state senator from Custer county, now conducting a cattle ranch in Cherry or Blaine county, be named to run in his place.

Mr. Humphrey is back in the race since it became known that Congressman Kinkaid had finally and definitely made up his mind to quit. He had previously instructed the secretary of state not to accept a filing sent in from Broken Bow in his behalf.

Amsberry filed when Kinkaid first announced his withdrawal and has given it out that he would stay in to the finish, unless the present congressman concluded to run again, in which event Amsberry said he would get off the ticket.

'Some Letter.'

During the past few days, Humphrey has written to Amsberry or to W. L. Gaston, deputy secretary of state, declaring his purpose to make the race. It was "some letter," according to Gaston, but he and Amsberry refuse to give it out for publication.

The situation as it thus stands prompted Amsberry to send the following telegram to Humphrey at Wasington, Wednesday afternoon.

"In the interest of party victory and county harmony, both should not be candidates. Can we not settle it amicably?"

Before this message was sent, Secretary Amsberry held a conference in his private office with Dr. T. W. Bass of Broken Bow, who is a primary candidate for secretary of state against Amsberry's deputy, W. L. Gaston. Bass had just come from Broken Bow and the effect of having two congressional candidates from there opposing one another in the primaries was discussed.

Would Avoid Split.

A number of Broken Bow men have called on Amsberry during the past week or so. Some of them are said to be fearful of anything which might tend to produce a g. o. p. split in Custer county, in view of the fact that democrats are rather aggressive this year and that the new progressive party is strong in that county, with W. J. Taylor of Merna heading the mid-road slate for governor.

On top of all this, Robert G. Simmons of Scottsbluff filed as a republican congressional candidate last Monday, and it is expected he will be a very formidable bidder for the nomination, as he will have the backing of ex-service men and of the younger generation in general.

It is believed by well informed politicians that if two candidates should be in the field from Custer county neither one could develop enough strength throughout the Sixth district to defeat Simmons.

CLUB PICNIC.

The Lincoln Bird Fanciers held an all day picnic today at Capital Beach. The members of the party met this morning at 10 o'clock going to the beach where the day was devoted to a study of the birds and their haunts.

Local Financier Given Bad Money While in Germany

The story of how M. W. Folsom Lincoln banker, was given worthless money as change by a Y. M. C. A. in Coblenz, Germany, is told in a letter to Secretary W. S. Whitten of the Chamber of Commerce from W. E. Hardy, who is touring Europe in the same party.

"We joke Morris a good deal about taking the bad money," says Mr. Hardy. "Not that it amounted to a great deal—about 1/36 of 36-100 of 1 cent, United States value."

In proof of the almost negligible value of German money, the Lincoln man sent along a small white metal coin about half as big as a penny. On one side is the value 5 Pfennig—and on the other the imperial double-eagle. It is worth, in American money, 1-20 of 36-100 of 1 cent!

The party was in Paris last week, after touring Europe for five weeks by automobile. Mr. Hardy writes that he expects to return to Lincoln about July 1, "to go into training to beat Quiggle and Teeters at the great game of golf"

According to the report Mr. Johnson left the machine parked near Tenth and N streets and when he returned about a half hour later, the car was gone.

Jury Out In Damage Case.—The jury in Mrs. Susie Geistlinger's $20,600 damage suit against Clarence E. Spath retired for deliberation, Wednesday noon. Mrs. Geistlinger alleged Spath's car struck her while she was walking across the intersection at Thirteenth and O streets, November 20, 1921.

Balderson on Trial.—Trial of Eric Balderson, charged with illegal sale of intoxicating liquor, February 26, 1922, being his third alleged offense, was begun in district court here before Judge W. E. Stewart, Wednesday. The complaint alleges that Balderson was convicted before Justice of the Peace W. T. Stevens on August 26, and again on October 14, 1921, on charges of violating the prohibition laws.

Vlach A Bankrupt.—United States Judge T. C. Munger Tuesday afternoon adjudged Rudolph Vlach, Crete Neb., plumber, to be a bankrupt. Vlach disappeared about a year ago, and is supposed to be working on some Pacific sea vessel now. He is alleged to have left a number of debts, and his creditors petitioned the federal court to declare him a bankrupt. Referee Dan H. McClenahan who acted as special master in the case, after a hearing, recommended that Vlach be adjudged bankrupt.

Abandons High Board Fence.—Owing to protests from office occupants in the old capitol building, the construction of a board fence 8 feet high around the edifice has been abandoned. The fence was intended to keep the contractor from piling materials on the space next to the present building. Complaint was made, however, that it shut out light and air from the lower offices. It also cut off the view so that people working in the offices could not look out and see what was going on. The remonstrances prevailed, and the fence will be completed, according to Secretary Johnson of the capitol commission, by attaching woven wire fencing to posts and framework.

THURSDAY CIRCUS DAY IN LINCOLN

Gollmar Bros. Parade at 11 a. m. Will Be Full of Sensations.

Ring Performance Proper Will Be More Interesting Than Ever.

PARADE TOMORROW 11 A. M. Route: Leaving the Show Grounds on South street, to 16th st.. To O street, to 9th street, to circus grounds where a free exhibition is given.

Tomorrow the circus.

Gollmar Bros. circus will exhibit here tomorrow. The trains will arrive early in the morning and it will be but a little while before the tented city will be erected.

Judging from the testimony of the eye, Golmar Bros. circus is the most strongly, expensively and strikingly heralded enterprise in the world, and measured by the quality of its announcements, it has to be. It seems small wonder that such an aggregation of rare wild beasts, arenic celebrities and educated wild and domestic animals should be revelation to the circus going public. The many years of experience by the management who directly control this massive enterprise is plainly visible from the fact that they have thoroughly learned what the masses long and look for in tent entertainment.

Their policy of continually adding the newest and greatest feats and features in every quarter of the globe has been and still is, one of the great factors in their remarkable popularity and success. Among them for the first time here, and, in fact, anywhere except under their canvases, will be seen the Famous Morales family. These remarkable performers appear in the only original novelty acts known to the tents for the past half century.

Horses and Ponies Big Feature.

One feature of the show that is quite an item is the horses and ponies. There seems to be a platonic affection within the breast of the average human being for these animals. This is one reason why Gollmar Bros circus will captivate the public this year. The feature of the parade is the horses. They are remarkably fine. Even those drawing the wagons are well bred and in fine condition.

The circus of ring performance, proper, will be more interesting than ever. Many European acts have been engaged along with many notable American features. Fifty clowns will provide the fun and keep the merriment at sparkling white heat throughout the entire performance. They work in groups and irrisistibly enact the farcical incidents of droll skits.

There are a score or more well-known riders and in many acts dogs are used to make the feats more picturesque and exciting. The trained wild animal features are many, including large groups of lions, tigers, leopards and other cat animals all performing in a large steel arena.

The parade tomorrow morning will be a bewildering mass of gold, silver silks and satins, being built on absolutely different lines from the parades of other shows. The management invites critical and general attention to this part of the day's entertainment. It is really a mastodonic and rich production of a gorgeous fete of pageant of Oriental splendors, with hundreds of men and women seen in indescribable lavish display of jewels and costumes. There are nearly a half thousand people in line and over two hundred horses besides the herds of huge elephants, camels, dromedaries, sacred cattle, zebras, zebrulins and others, all with costly trappings and pharaphernalia to give the requisite coloring and embellishments to the perpetuation of a brilliant event which outshines the elastic conception of the most fanciful records of pageantry glories. In this massive street parade the innumerable embellished wild animal dens will be with their sides removed and through the bars exhibiting a majority of the magnificent wild animal performers. In many other respects this parade will be strikingly original, full of surprises and sensations, merriment and music, lavish, richness, pretty women costly costumed and gowned, gallant men brilliantly garbed, a large colony of clowns and characters.

Suits Brought Seek Judgments For $63,200

Judgments aggregating $63,200 are demanded against the Federal Building & Investment company in three separate suits filed in district court here by Ezra D. Bennett, James C. Reid and Harry E. Hagaman. Bennett lives at York, Reid at Edgar and Hagaman at Princeton.

All three suits were identical in substance, except for the amounts.

The company is charged with having made false and fraudulent representations to induce the men to purchase stock. Bennett demands judgment for $40,000, Reid seeks judgment for $12,400 and Hagaman asks judgment for $10,200.

It is claimed in each suit that the Federal Building & Investment company represented its business to be in a sound and prosperous condition; that it was doing a profitable business and had a remendous earning power and had earned and paid more than 30 per cent dividends and there was an "absolute certainty" of a payment of 30 per cent dividends; that the business was conducted in a safe and conservative manner; that it was engaged in the general business of building and of buying and selling lands and of making farm loans upon an extensive scale and that all monies derived from the sale of stock was so invested; that its investments were safe and secure and free from all chance and that the company was doing an honest business and had a tremendous earning stock was readily selling for $150 a share.

All of the alleged representations were branded by the three plaintiffs as false and fraulent. They claimed the company did not pay any dividends in 1919, the year they purchased stock, that the agents of the company received about 25 per cent from the sale of stock as commission and that the company did not make a profit to anyone except the officers.

FIFTY-FOUR ROAD CONTRACTS TO BE LET NEXT MONDAY

Summer Program of State Department Calls For $2,000,000 Expendture.

Will Add 350 Miles of Improved Highways to system in Nebraska.

Contracts for fifty-four road projects in Nebraska, in various stages of construction and preparation, will be let by the state department of public works on June 12, involving an expenditure of more than $2,000,000. The contracts embrace the 1922 road and bridge program, which is expected to be completed by November 1. A comparison with the 1921 program shows about the same work for 1922, although at a saving of about 15 per cent.

When the roads are completed approximately 350 more miles of improved highways will have been added to the state's system of local and federal roads. Three-fourths of the money to be expended this year will be used in improving new highways and the remainder to complete projects where some work already has been done.

Wants Hospital Modeled After One in St. Louis

Dr. Miles J. Breuer has sent the following letter to J. L. Teeters of the city hospital board:

Mr. J. L. Teeters, 121 N. 9th St., Lincoln, Nebraska.

Dear Mr. Teeters:

The following suggestion, made to you as chairman of the hospital board, is not altogether an idea of mine individually. A number of Lincoln physicians with whom I talked at the St. Louis meeting and upon our return to Lincoln made the same suggestion. A number of us agreed to write to you; perhaps you have already heard from some of the others.

As you may be aware, I have recently spent some weeks doing special medical work in St. Louis. Everything I saw affected me in the light of its possible application to Lincoln and Lincoln conditions. I came into extensive contact with the St. Louis city hospital and its work, and I could not help being impressed with many admirable features in its organization and equipment. Every Lincoln physician who visited it while in St. Louis at the A. M. A. meeting, was similarly impressed.

We all felt that the St. Louis city hospital, famous all over the country as a model of its kind, has many lessons to teach Lincoln; and that it would certainly be advisable for the Lincoln city hospital board or some representative, to pay a visit to that city, with a view to inspecting the St. Louis city hospital and adopting whatever or its features may be desirable for us.

I am suggesting therefore that the Lincoln hospital board send a representative to St. Louis for that purpose, and I am hoping that the several physicians with whom this idea was discussed, are not forgetting their intentions of adding their suggestions to mine.

I remain, respectfully,
MILES J. BREUER, M. D.

SEE NO ADVANCE IN COAL PRICES

Local Dealers Have Plenty of Fuel On Hand For Summer.

Some Indicate That Prices May Be Lower In The Fall.

Lincoln people may expect no increase in the price of coal at this time or during the summer, such as has been forecast for the east, according to local dealers in close touch with the situation. Some go so far as to predict that prices may be lower in the fall. All agree that the best policy customers can follow is to order their winters suppy now for the price in effect at time of delivery, as the miners strike and threatened railroad strike make the situation extremely uncertain.

Local industries are well fixed for the summer, as many of the larger consumers have turned to oil burners and conserved their original supply of steam coal. As the price of oil has advanced only slightly more of the large users may be expected to change to oil if the strike continues. Railroads have at least thirty days supply on hand, according to latest reports.

The advance in the eastern markets is expected to come as a result of wage agreements reached by bituminous operators and miners in the non-union mines of Kentucky, Pennsylvania and West Virginia, under Secretary Hoover's ruling. The only coal used in Nebraska from open-shop mines is a low grade from Colorado districts.

W. Edgar Gates of the Whitebreast company bases his prediction of cheaper coal on three points: the 10 per cent reduction in freight, rates which will go into effect July 1, the twenty-five cent lower hauling price made locally and the probability of the miners and operators getting together on a wage scale which will be less than before April 1, when the strike went in effect. He sees no possible chance of any suffering in this part of the country.

The present badly confused condition in the mining industry should ultimately lead to cheaper coal, in the opinion of O. D. Carey of the City Fuel company. There is no domestic demand at the present and things should be settled down by September, when new stocks will be needed. He strongly favors early ordering by consumers.

J. H. Amos of Hutchins and Hyatt sees no cause for alarm for the next two or three months, what the situation will be then depending on the striker's success. He would not be surprised at lower prices on coal when the break does come.

Meighen Opposed To Reciprocity

OTTAWA, Ont., June 7.—Avoidance of any extensive reciprocal trade arrangement with the United States is Canada's right course, former Premier Arthur Meighen, leader of the conservative party declared in a debate on the budget yesterday in the house of commons. He was opposed to reciprocity, he said, "because the power to terminate it rests with the United States."

ENTERTAINMENT AT THE PRESCOTT

Three Hundred Children Take Part in School's Spring Program.

Operetta Written by Mrs. Eugene Levi Is Big Feature.

More than twelve hundred patrons of the new Prescott school met yesterday evening in the open court of the building to witness the spring entertainment of the school in which some three hundred children took part.

The feature of the program was an operetta, "A Sunny Spring Morning," written for and dedicated to Prescott school by Mrs. Eugene Levi, a patroness of the school. The musical setting was composed by Jacob Singer of the University School of Fine Arts. The operetta was selected from several submitted to the committee because of the genuine spontaneity and originality of the music and words.

The mood of spring was created in the opening chorus of "The Tulip," set to delightful waltz music and carried out through well worked out choruses of daisies, butterflies, and the finale, the music of which was characteristic and cleverly worked out. The Raindrop chorus was exquisitely dainty. The Dandelion solo was especially droll, and there was a touch of real humor in the song, "Jack Frost and the Frogs." Many of the little actors revealed real histrionic ability. The operetta was directed by Miss Ruth E. Fetterman and supervised by Mrs. May Morley, principal of the school.

The case of characters was as follows:

Jack Frost, Norman Chase.
Tulip, Harriet Whitman.
Frog, William Heller.
Daisy, Corinne McCarty.
Dandelion, Brownell Hall.
Lily of the Valley, Alice Randolph.
Violet, Jane Holland.
Poppy, Bobby Sporel.
Rainbow, Eugenia May Levi.
Jack in the Pulpit, Robert Stein.
Choruses of Raindrops, Daisies, Tulips, Fairies, Frogs and Butterflies.

Drill Provides Merriment.

A sunbonnet and overall drill under the supervision of Mrs. Theno, 1A, by eight little boys and girls caused much merriment. A balloon drill directed by Miss Janet Chase, kindergarten teacher, was also very pleasing. Games by Miss Wort's 1A class and the health drill by 1A of Miss Larson's room were very entertaining. Miss Maurine Wingert's 3B class gave a clever Dutch dance. An Indian song and dance were given by Miss Holt's 3A class. "Tales of Dolls of Many Climes" was given by 5A children of Miss Rowe's and Miss Bostrom's classes. Another feature was Miss Wilson's 4B in a circus, Herman Worster and Gardner Putney, Chinese acrobats, were clever. Lucile Riley and Helen Klein were solo dancers and Helen Lindberg and Frederick Beaumont were one-legged "gogops." The 6B class from Miss Hillier's room also gave a two ring circus. The clowns were Helen Drummond, Lucille Mills and Ruth Fort. The dancers were Clarissa Flansburg, Margaret Clapp, Jane Rienstrom and Lucile Miller. Milton Gish and Dale Wallace gave a burlesque dance. A patriotic song and drill were given by Miss Porter's 4A class. A physical training drill was given by Miss Adelaide Elam's 6A class. "The Jolly Workers" was cleverly portrayed. The little girls from China were from Miss Hendrickson's 6A class and contributed very artistic number. Other classes up to the seventh grade joined in many other features of the entertainment.

SAYS IOWA VOTE IS REPUDIATION

Hull Declares Result More of Turn Down Than Indiana or Pennsylvania.

(Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, June 7.—Nomination by Iowa republicans of Smith W. Bookhart as the party candidate for United States senator was declared by Chairman Hull of the democratic national committee in a statemen issued today ot be "even a more emphatic repudiation of the Harding administration and the republican congress than the votes for Beveridge in Indiana and Pinchot in Pennsylvania."

The democratic chairman's statement added that "Colonel Brookhart stood for definite policies, to which the administration especially is opposed while the votes for Beveridge and Pinchot were largely votes of protest."

"President Harding declared the Esch-Cummins act to be the greatest piece of railroad legislation ever passed," the statement continued and Colonel Brookhart ran on a platform pledged to repeal that act. His platform was not only progressive, but progressive in some features to the point of radicalism, including endorsement of the agricultural block, denounced by Mr. Harding, co-operative buying and selling, closer union of farm and city laborers, control of the federal reserve board by producers and government ownership of railroads."

When a Girl Marries

CHAPTER 662.

Dad Lee's promise that at any cost to himself he would put me in touch with Dick West convinced me that the little man really was my own flesh and blood. With great joy at this wonderful chance to serve Jim so well that I might be the direct means of bringing him home to me. I said good night to Dad Lee. My appointment to meet Dick is a week off, as Dad Lee assured me that Dick was not yet in physical condition to be up and about. I didn't mind waiting, for I needed the time to make my plans.

Arresting Dick may not serve Jim. If Dick is willing to meet me it may be because his lieutenants are in a position to carry out his plans without him. He may be inclined to throw Dad Lee and me off the track by giving us the seeming upper hand. So before I interview that shrewd and not conceivably reformed gentleman I feel I'd better do a lot of clear and constructive thinking. Dad Lee's good faith is the only thing I can't question.

I did a lot of pondering in the hours I was supposed to be "lost in slumber". The result was that I set off for my office next morning in a by-no-means-refreshed condition.—But Miss May greeted me on my arrival with an enthusiasm that had a tonic effect.

"Good morning!" she cried. "I've been just longing for eight forty-five and you. I can hardly wait to tell who what a fountain of youth I've been drinking from just because I was lucky enough to meet you."

"Now, look here," I replied with frowning severity. "If you will insist on burning the candle at both ends, what can I do? I'll wager that you were jazzing around until all hours with your pet 'nephew' and his friend, and yet you've betrayed that you must have been in this office at some such unearthly hour as eight-forty! So don't try to hide behind your three gray hairs, you giddy young person!"

Miss May looked crestfallen for a moment. She made me think of a stray dog that's so used to being kicked it can't fully believe a gentle, stroking hand is caressing instead of chastising. But in a moment she blossomed out in the way I've had the satisfaction of seeing become more and more frequent since the day when I had the inspiration to give her an interest in the business.

"I'm forty-six," she announced suddenly in a tone that was rock-bottom reality. "But those two wonderful boys treated me as if I were a queen or—a debutante. I think Ralph Lacy actually has begun to believe we're kin. Maybe he wants to belong to some one 'most as much as I do. Anyway he understands how I long for—folks. And he's supplied me with real ones. He's the nicest boy I ever did see, and next comes Wayne Parkinson."

"Wait till you see my Jim," I replied. "Only I'm dreading the way you'll plunge in and vamp him."

Miss May blushed. It took all the withered sadness from her cheeks and made me realize how young forty-six may be when its happy and has the assurance of being charming still.

"I'll wager your husband will be kind to me," she said simply. "The man you love would have nice feelings about lonely old maids. But he wouldn't have as much time for one as that adorable Lacy boy seems to think he has. You know, it seems funny to me that a fine-looking, unstanding man like Ralph shouldn't be gobbled up by some lovely girl. But he and that Park act as if they don't know any girls worth a pinch o' snuff. They told me if they had not found me to beau around they'd have had to go on being stag everywheres."

"They don't know the right girls," I said thoughtfully. "That's what lonesomeness is—not being lucky enough to find the right friends—the really congenial ones."

"If we take them in hand and find girls for them—" ventured Miss May.

"Bless your heart, dear, you'd hand your boys right over to some one else just when you've found them and started to enjoy them!" I cried, deeply stirred by Miss May's utter lack of selfishness.

"Of course. Those boys need friends. You ought to have been there to hear them going on about how wonderful you are. I wish you could spare a little time for them. Especially my 'nephew.' He does admire you so much."

"I admire him, too," I agreed. "I think he's a fine man. His ability in business was the first thing that impressed me. But pretty soon I began to see that he was—real folks. I've a feeling that his friendship for our business and his interest in it are what has put up on the map."

"I agree," said Miss May dryly. "And that's what makes me feel so strongly about what we both owe him. I can't give him much except just letting him give me his kindness. But you're young and a woman in the world, where he hasn't had time to get any training. I think he feels kind of awkward socially, and it seems to me what would even up for all he's done for us would be for you to take him under your wing."

"And introduce him to nice girls," I added.

"First better get him over his shyness about all but business women," advised Miss May. "He's not sure of himself in what he calls the social game. I can see that from how he talks to Park. And Park's so bored to death by society that it doesn't occur to him to help break Ralph in. So I kind of think it would be no more than our gratitude demands if you were to make that your job."

"Bless you, you dear thing!" I cried. "I'll take your advice."

"It'll be worth your while," said Miss May. "And I wish to goodness we had a place here in the firm for Park. He'd be so much happier if he had something useful to do."

"That may come some day," I twinkled. "We seem to have added a branch—sort of a social service for young men who haven't found themselves."

"Young men who haven't found themselves," repeated a familiar voice, raucous and croaking.

Even before I looked up I realized that something untoward must have happened to bring Max Hoadley to my office again.

Doctors Puzzled Over Case of Lad With Broken Neck

GROVE CITY, Pa., June 7.—Three doctors, assisted by students of Grove City college today continued their efforts to keep the flame of life alive in Edwin Leslie, president of the sophomore class whose neck was broken when he dove into a swimming pool yesterday. All night long the students and doctors, by means of artificial respiration, fought death, and while the young student was unconscious this morning, the physicians were mystified, for, they said, they had never heard of a similar case where the patient lived any length of time.

Leslie's head struck the bottom of the pool when he made a high dive. Fellow students rescued him and practically all night he was conscious, but unable to speak. An X-ray picture today showed the broken neck and the doctors declared this explained why the patient, although conscious most of the time, was unable to speak.

Money Will Be Tied Up For Time

WASHINGTON, June 7.—Union funds which have been tied up in the Coronado case, brought under the Sherman anti-trust act, will not be immediately released by yesterday's decision of the supreme court, according to legal experts.

The granting of a stay of the mandate for ninety days to afford counsel an opportunity to file motion for a rehearing if desired, will defer it, was said, the date on which the court's order will become effective.

It has been estimated that upwards of $1,000,000 in [illegible] funds has been tied up in the Coronado case.

Foundation to Help Small Towns Get Playgrounds

NEW YORK, June 7.—The William E. Harmon foundation, organized last year to help in securing playgrounds for children in the smaller towns of the United States announced today two new offers made possible by William E. Harmon, the founder.

Mr. Harmon will contribute 10 per cent to any campaign begun after June 1 in towns of 10,000 or less for the purchase of play land, limiting his contribution to $500 in each case.

In towns of 5,000 or less, the foundation, whose officers at 1040 Nassau street, will purchase land outright at a cost not exceeding $2,000, the requirement being that the playground is not less than two acres. The foundation will lease the playground for five to ten years, giving committees an option of purchasing. In this way the foundation hopes to awaken the smaller towns to the needs of the children.

Green Eyed Movie Vamp In Discard; Innocent Type Up

CHICAGO, Ill., June 7.—The movie penciled eyebrows, green eyes and her pade earrings has gone, and will flaunt her fascinations on the silver screen no longer, motion picture theatre owners were told at a meeting today.

What the public wants now, according to speakers, are good little girls, heroines of the Little Eva type with golden hair, blue eyes, sincerity and innocence.

"The modern picture heroine," said William J. Sweeney, "must be young, inexperienced in appearance, guileless public has wearied of the vamp type.

"The public," he said, "is voicing the demand for cleaner films and the producers are filling the demand."

PDOMINENT WOMAN DEAD.

SAN BERNARDINO, Cal., June 7.—Mrs. George K. Benner of Pittsburgh, Pa., prominent in Masonic auxiliary circles of Pennsylvania, died suddenly here last night after she was taken from a special train bringing delegates to the national shrine convention in San Francisco. Mrs. Benner was president of Syria Ladies club, the largest shrine auxiliary in the world.

"Fight those film-coats on your teeth"

Leading dentists, nearly all the world over, now urge a new method of teeth cleaning. Millions of people already employ it. You see the results everywhere today, in whiter, cleaner teeth.

This is for those who don't know it as yet. We offer a ten-day test. You will then see the unique results and decide what they mean to you.

The war on film

One great object is to fight the film on teeth. You can feel it now—a viscous film. It clings to teeth, gets between the teeth and stays. And it forms the basis for dingy, dangerous coats.

Ordinary tooth pastes do not effectively combat it. So millions of teeth brushed daily still discolor and decay.

Film absorbs stains, making white teeth cloudy. Film is the basis of tartar. It holds food substance which ferments and forms acids. It holds the acids in contact with the teeth to cause decay.

Film constantly breeds germs. They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea. Thus most tooth troubles are now traced to film.

How to fight it daily

Dental science has now found two effective film combatants. Able authorities have proved them by many careful tests.

A new tooth paste has been perfected, to comply with five modern requirements. The name is Pepsodent. These two great film combatants are embodied in it.

Careful people of some forty races now employ it daily, largely by dental advice. You will also do so when you know how much it does.

Brings other effects

Pepsodent brings two other effects which authorities now desire.

It multiplies the starch digestant in the saliva. That is there to digest starch deposits. They gum the teeth, get between the teeth, and often ferment and form acids.

It multiplies the alkalinity of the saliva. That is Nature's neutralizer for acids which cause decay.

Thus every use gives multiplied power to these two great tooth-protecting agents in the mouth.

For beauty's sake

Film removal means prettier teeth. Film-coats make teeth dingy. So every lover of glistening teeth should combat that film daily.

The results will delight you and convince you. Present the coupon for the 10-Day Tube. Start its use tonight.

Note how clean the teeth feel after using. Mark the absence of the viscous film. See how teeth whiten as the film-coats disappear. The normal alkaline mouth, following every use, is most refreshing.

See and feel these results for ten days. Then look at your teeth in your mirror. Then you will know what this new method means to you and yours. Cut out the coupon so you won't forget.

NEBRASKA AND THE TARIFF.

So persistent and determined has become the protest from every part of the country against the administration tariff bill now pending in congress that republican leaders have agreed that a series of set speeches in defense of the measure is necessary and the first of these was delivered by Senator Watson of Indiana in the senate Monday. In his address of more than two hours' duration the Hoosier statesman seeks above all other things to convey the impression that the opposition to the Fordney-McCumber act is the result of foreign propaganda. He avoids the real question at issue and by means of clever verbal maneuvering endeavors to arouse party prejudice. Free trade goes hand in hand with internationalism and the league of nations, he cries, but he cannot divert the attention of the people of the nation from the fact that a higher tariff means higher prices.

And just at this time, when incomes are being slashed right and left and dollars in the hands of those who must purchase the necessities of life are becoming fewer and fewer, prices are matters of the most vital interest.

Senator Watson will have some difficulty in convincing the people of Nebraska that the opposition in this state to the measure he feels called upon to defend is the result of foreign propaganda. If such a thing exists it has not reached this far west. Nebraskans are prompted to resist the enactment of this bill by nature's first law; they want to live, and being educated, intelligent, reasoning people they realize that with wages declining as they are an increase in prices will mean that the consumer is to be reduced to a state of mere existence.

It was not foreign propaganda but the instinct for self-preservation which caused the retail trade promotion subdivision of the Lincoln Chamber of Commerce on May 18 to adopt a resolution declaring that the proposed tariff bill would inevitably cause an unnecessary increase in prices due to the large increase in the tariff rates on nearly all classes of commodities and requesting the directors of the chamber to convey to the senators and representatives from Nebraska a protest against the pending measure.

It was intensive study of the situation which caused the retail merchants of Lincoln to voice their opposition. They know that the consuming public is in open rebellion against high prices and that any increase under existing conditions would be disastrous. And they have shown conclusively that the adoption of the administration schedules means a big increase in the price of almost all commodities.

John E. Miller showed that the woolen industry of the country is in the hands of a comparatively few concerns, which alone will benefit by the increased tariff on such goods and to whom the people of the entire nation must pay tribute. The enactment of the pending bill means an inevitable increase of from fifty to one hundred per cent in the price of woolens. All must contribute and just at a time when incomes are being cut almost to a prewar level. And wool is merely an example.

Do Nebraska people propose to tolerate any such program? Will they allow the men whom they have sent to Washington to represent them and their interests turn upon them at the behest of party leaders and despoil them of their substance for the enrichment and delectation of manufacturing barons of the east.

It should not be necessary to tell Nebraska members of congress how the people of this state stand upon this bill, but it probably is. They are a long way from home and subjected to an environment and influences difficult of comprehension by those who stay at home and sow and reap and toil and sweat, that the world may be fed and youth guided in the paths of knowledge. So it would be well for each citizen of Nebraska to let his or her representative down in Washington know just what that citizen thinks of the Fordney-McCumber bill. And above all should the women remember that they also are citizens; that they have most to do with the expenditure of the family fund, which bids fair to be cut in half should this measure become a law.

"A NEW BILLION DOLLAR INDUSTRY."

This is the title which the Commercial Car Journal of the issue of June 15, gives to an article concerning the magnitude of the automobile truck industry. Then it proceeds to prove it in this fashion:

"Reports from authoritative sources in the motor truck industry indicate that the motor truck manufacturers are not only doing a larger business than any time since the war but the industry as a whole has attained a volume never before equalled.

"The annual expenditure in this country this year for motor trucks and commercial cars will exceed a billion dollars. This total includes an expenditure of $250,000,000 for the 250,000 trucks of all sizes that are being manufactured this year and an investment of $700,000,000 for the maintenance and upkeep of the 1,500,000 trucks already in operation.

"Running four times as many hours, traveling twice as many miles as the average automobile, the average truck wears out and consumes twice as much material of all kinds as the average passenger car.

"Of the $4,000,000,000 automobile bill of the country, approximately $1,000,000,000 or nearly one-fourth is spent on the maintenance and purchase of commercial cars and trucks.

"Gasoline, tires and lubricating oil are the principal items to be considered under the head of operating supplies.

"Between 1,100,000,000 gallons and 1,200,000,000 gallons of gasoline are annually used for motor truck operation. At an average of 22 cents per gallon, the gasoline bill will total $250,000,000.

"Nearly 5,000,000 tires will be required this year for commercial cars. These will cost approximately $175,000,000.

"About 75,000,000 gallons of lubricating oil at fifty cents per gallon will bring the bill for commercial car lubrication to $37,000,000.

"Sales of truck equipment will consist principally of special bodies, cranes, hoists, winches, cushion wheels etc. About 200,000 special jobs at an average of $300 apiece will be required this year. Other truck equipment, costing about $15,000,000, will bring this total of equipment sales up to approximately $75,000,000.

"Replacement parts constitute an increasingly important item of sales in the commercial car field. Sales of such parts in 1922 will total $73,000,000.

"Labor for service and repairs is figured at about $140 per truck per year, which brings the total for over 1,050,000 trucks to about $150,000,000.

"It will be seen fom the above figures, therefore, that total sales in all branches of the commercial car industry will be well in excess of one billion dollars for the current calendar year."

ROOM FOR EXPANSION.

L. C. Burr, who has lived in Lincoln for fifty years, said Monday when speaking of the leasing of his corner property at Thirteenth and O streets, that the future center of business in Lincoln would be Seventeenth and O streets. The zoning commission apparently does not agree. It has allowed the central business section some room for growth north, south and east but it has contemplated no such extensive spread of business east on O street as Mr. Burr predicts.

It is possible that the present scheme of zoning as now being discussed does not allow for as substantial a growth in Lincoln as one might hope for. The present section known technically as central business covers something over twenty city blocks. The proposed limit under the zoning ordinance allows slightly over forty blocks, but it stops at Twenty-first and O streets and at Q street on the north and at L street on the south. Outside of these districts no building over two and one-half stories or thirty-five feet in height will be allowed except in industrial and apartment districts.

The elimination of future small business districts out through the city will tend to develop a larger proportionate business district down town. How long the area allowed for central business will supply locations for all city retail houses is a question, but probably before we have reached a population of 100,000, that limiting part of the zoning law will of necessity be changed.

Those who believe like Mr. Burr, that Lincoln business is to grow east on O street can be content with the knowledge that the zoning ordinance itself provides an easy means of amendment whereby the business district can be changed to suit the city's increasing needs.

BACK TO BOOKS.

Do we in America think more of physical powers than of mental attainments?

Do we place Brawn above Culture?

Is the prevailing custom among newspapers to emphasize bodily strength and skill above intellectual force and ability a true reflection of popular sentiment?

Former Congressman Charles Sloan, in a talk Monday before a group of university people, called attention to this seeming inconsistancy. School papers, college publications, the weekly and daily press, feature the activities of an all-American halfback, or a Jack Dempsey. In the same issue, the successful outcome of years of concentrated effort by a scientist, which will influence the world for generations is given a paragraph on an inside page.

The papers endeavor to print what the people want to read. If they have been misjudging the public's wishes in this matter, it is time for the public to so inform the papers.

Is Mr. Sloan's suggested slogan—Back to Books—to be taken seriously?

Comment by the Press

THE FEARLESS CONFIDENCE OF FREEDOM.

(A Memorial Day Editorial from the New York World.)

Twenty-three hundred years ago Thucydides the historian wrote down his memory of a speech that Pericles the statesman delivered at the graves of Athenian soldiers who had died in battle.

"Of the battles which we and our fathers fought," he said, "whether in the winning of our power abroad or in bravely withstanding the warfare of barbarian or Greek at home, I do not wish to say more; they are too familiar to you all. I wish rather to set forth the spirit in which we faced them and the constitution and manners with which we rose to greatness, and to pass from them to the dead; for I think it not unfitting that these things should be called to mind at today's solemnity, and expedient too that the whole gathering of citizens and strangers should listen to them. * * *

"Our constitution is named a democracy because it is in the hands not of the few but of the many. But our laws secure equal justice for all in their private disputes, and our public opinion welcomes and honors talent in every branch of achievement, not for any sectional reason but on grounds of excellence alone. And as we give free play to all in our public life, so we carry the same spirit into our daily relations with one another. We have no black looks or angry words for our neighbor if he enjoys himself in his own way, and we abstain from the little acts of churlishness which, though they leave no mark, yet cause annoyance to whoso notes them. Open and friendly in our private intercourse, in our public acts we keep strictly within the control of law. We acknowledge the restraint of reverence; we are obedient to whosoever is set in authority and to the laws, more especially to those which offer protection to the oppressed and those unwritten ordinances whose transgression brings admitted shame.

"Yet ours is no workaday city only. No other provides so many recreations for the spirit—contests and sacrifices all the year round, and beauty in our public buildings to cheer the heart and delight the eye day by day. * * *

"We are lovers of beauty without extravagance and lovers of wisdom without unmanliness. Wealth to us is not mere material for vainglory but an opportunity for achievement; and poverty we think it no disgrace to acknowledge but a real degradation to make no effort to overcome. Our citizens attend both to public and private duties and do not allow absorption in their own various affairs to interfere with their knowledge of the city's. We differ from other states in regarding the man who holds aloof from public life not as 'quiet,' but as useless; we decide or debate, carefully and in person, all matters of policy, holding not that words and deeds go ill together, but that acts are foredoomed to failure when undertaken undiscussed. For we are noted for being at once most adventurous in action and most reflective beforehand. * * *

"We secure our friends not by accepting favors but by doing them. We are alone among mankind in doing men benefits not on calculations of self-interest, but in the fearless confidence of freedom.

"In a word, I claim that our city as a whole is an education to Greece." * * *

The historian who put these words into Pericles's mouth knew as well as we shall know, when we read the Memorial Day orations, that this is the praise of an ideal rather than of a fact. But he knew that young men do not willingly die in battle for anything else than the highest hope of which their civilization is capable. And he knew too that when the survivors meet it is not what they have done, but what they are able to believe they will yet do that can atone for the sacrifice of youth.

We shall not, then, praise our dead by telling them how much wheat we raised last year, how many automobiles we have, how many motion-picture houses, what tall buildings, what fast trains, how big a gold reserve and what bank deposits. We shall not praise them by explaining how many people we have managed to crowd into our large cities or how many radio-phones have been installed in the year 1922. We shall praise them only by saying what, after tragedy and confusion, we still believe the invisible America to be, where a man may be more brave for this that he hath much to love."

A nation living in a land so fertile that none need want and none need push the other to live. A nation too strong for fear and too certain of itself to persecute. A nation free to be tolerant because there is so much light and air in which fever can expend itself. A nation dedicated to the belief that truth can be found and that the means of teaching truth can be learned. Therefore a nation rejecting the immemorial belief that the few are born to rule and the many to obey. But a nation determined to try out to its final end the hope that most men will prefer truth to falsehood when they have the chance to choose.

A nation believing that superstition is not necessary to public order and that in the fearless confidence of freedom it is better to hold fast to the ideal than to abandon it in fright and despair. A nation until yesterday the symbol of hope in the world, its name a terror to the tyrant and a watchword to the young and adventurous.

The vision of a nation we shall not lightly give up. A vision that men will maintain against the timid and the conspiring and against those who sneer or are dead of soul. The vision of the pioneer and of young men who died for it in battle, the American vision, our own.

Rambling through Nebraska.

BY C. DURANT JONES

The Rambler attended a meeting of railroad men the other day, the particular craft being that of the Maintenance of Way department. This craft ran afoul of the wage slash ordered by the labor board, and one cannot help but have a feeling of sympathy for the men in that department. They are the poorest paid of any class of railroad workers and with the present price levels of what they must buy to live on, they feel that a wage cut just now is most untimely.

They receive something like $3 per day on the average, perhaps, although under the new rate, many of them will get less than that. The track men on some of the branch lines will get a fraction over thirty cents an hour and on the main lines, a little over thirty-two. With an eight hour day, you can figure it yourself. The monthly stipend is barely enough to live on, even when they are permitted to put in full time. But they told the Rambler that holidays and rainy days must be counted out. Occasionally word comes from higher up that the appropriation is exhausted and then a whole gang is laid off for a day. One section man reports that for several months past he has averaged eighteen days a month. Figure it yourself again at three dollars a day, and again a feeling of sympathy will go to the man and his family. It has been stated that the new wages will not permit the purchase of as much food for the average family as is given to the convicts in our state penal institutions. Couple this condition with the press reports of the big dividends earned last year by one of the biggest railroad systems in the country, and it is but natural for the Maintenance of Way men to feel that there is an incongruity in the situation that might be corrected.

W. L. McCandless, country treasurer of Custer county, has prepared an interesting set of figures, covering the towns of his county, for they show just where the tax money has gone. And since tax reduction is in the air, and in fact pretty much up in the air, these figures will help to locate the disease if there be one. On each $1,000 of valuation, the state receives $2.30 of the total tax, in each town. The county receives $4.70. Since the voters in the towns are within easy reach of their county administration, it will not be difficult for them to apply the remedy if one is needed. In the town of Arnold, the tax on a $1,000 was $33.39, of which $30.48 was spent in Custer county. In Anselmo, the tax payer paid $35.89 but $32.18 stayed right in the county. In Ansley, he paid $36.19, but $32.89 never left the county. The Berwyn tax payer dug up $35.21 per $1,000, but $31.91 of that amount went for expenses or improvements in his home town. Broken Bow topped the list for the owner of a $1,000 valuation was asked for $52.39, of which $4,909 and $44 39 never left the town of Broken Bow, Callaway citizens scraped up $31.56, and spent $23.56 of it right in the town of Callaway. Comstock went $40.95, but kept $32.95 in the town. Mason City contributed $38.35 to keep things going, but $32.35 of that amount was needed for expenses at Mason City. Merna taxes were $32.60 per $1,000, all of it stayed in the county but $3.30. Sargent called for $47.10 and used $39.10 of that amount herself. Oconto had the lowest tax rate, being $25.63 per $1,000, but used $17.63 of that amount in the village itself. It is pretty well conceded that some vast improvements could be made in the conduct of state affairs, but the foregoing figures are a pretty emphatic reminder that the solution of state problems will not come anywhere near fixing the whole trouble.

A tale of pioneer times comes from Benkelman, the character in the tale being David G. Hines, who started the first newspaper in western Nebraska, when he began the publication of the Chase county Chronicle at Imperial, the only paper between Culbertson and Akron. That was thirty-six years ago. He bought the printing plant at Joplin, Mo., having it shipped to "Imperial, Neb., via Benkelman" as that was the only way in which freight could reach Imperial. He landed at Benkelman with but $7.50 in his pocket and a big ambition. He secured a freighter to haul the outfit across the country, something like forty miles, and loaded in into a rig. It was then that the freighter learned the size of Mr. Hines' supply of the needful and there was a hitch in the proceedings. With the help of an Imperial banker, sufficient funds were procured to freight the outfit across the prairies, but Mr. Hines was compelled to walk. The business houses from whom he might get advertising support were few and far between. But there were many homesteaders proving up on their claims, and this made a lot of legal advertising. Mr. Hines says that at one time his paper carried $1,500 worth of land office printing. He has been prominent in the development of the county but has never found more pleasure in anything than in the promotion of that pioneer institution.

Mrs. T. E. Williams lives in Aurora. Her street looked just like thousands of other streets in the United States. There were various features about it that did not look just right, and that could have been different. Finally she proposed to the other folks who lived on her street, that a united effort be put forth to make the street look better. They all agreed and they all went to work together to beautify the street. They planned to put flower beds and foliages in the corner where pedestrians were wont to cut the corners, and make them so beautiful that there would be no room for the trespasser. The plan worked fine, and everybody is enjoying it, the property owners along the streets are delighted with the plan, and even the newspapers are talking about it. It was a woman who thought of it.

WOMEN ADVANCING IN POLITICS

(New York Evening Post.)

Mrs. L. C. Marion's prohibitionist candidacy for the United States Senate in Pennsylvania two years ago attracted little attention, but that of Mrs. Peter Oleson this year in Minnesota is on an entirely different footing. She is the regular democratic candidate and the first woman nominated for the senate by a major party convention. The St. Paul Daily News predicts that "the campaign she is now starting will add a memorable chapter to the record of Minnesota in politics." Her reputation thus far has been won chiefly as a speaker. Mrs. Olesen was the first woman to address a Jackson day dinner in Washington and the first to be a delegate at large to a democratic national convention. The cynical may say that the nomination of a woman for senator on the democratic ticket in an almost sure republican state, or the nomination of a republican woman in an almost sure democratic state, is nothing remarkable. But the next step, the nomination of a woman in a truly doubtful state, will soon be taken.

It is apparently a paradox that while the most famous suffrage leaders have been easterners, western women are much more prominent in running for office. But there is no paradox at all. The west began granting equal suffrage in 1869, and bestowed it without a long or hard struggle, so that there was no need for the aggressive suffrage leaders which the east had to develop. But western feeling has consistently been favorable to women in office. We have had western congresswomen, sheriff's mayor, legislators and state superintendents of education; we shall yet have women senators and governors.

THE PEAK OF THE LOAD

Lincoln, Neb.
June 6, 1922

Lincoln Daily Star,
City.

The question of taxation has arrived at a position in human affairs that might be designated as the peak of the load. By looking over the list of tax levies for 1921 on the back of your tax receipts you will find a levy listed as Sanitary District No. 1, for ten cents on every one hundred ($100.00) dollars of actual valuation. It might be said that ten cents was too small an item to be talked about, but when this ten cents takes about $100,000 from the tax payers of Sanitary District No. 1 per year it is well worth while to do some talking about this levy of ten cents on every one hundred dollars of actual valuation. This $100.00 per year is supposed to be used to build a disposal plant for the sewer systems of Lincoln and its suburbs. The probable cost of the disposal plant, including the cost of the large conduits to bring the sewage to the plant and to take the finished product away from the plant will be from $450,000 to $500,000. This disposal plant should be built as soon as possible and put into use. There can be no question about that. If any kind of improvements in or around any city should be built by bonded indebtedness then the sewer systems of a city should take first place, because they are expected to last for years to come. Let the present generation pay the interest on the bonds and the future generations take care of the bonds. All of the larger conduits that must be built and located on the Salt Creek bottoms to receive the sewage of the city of Lincoln and its suburbs, including the disposal plant and all that pertains to the disposal plant should be built by long time bonded indebtedness.

The city of Lincoln voted $100,000 of bonds and have built a large conduit reaching from fifth and South streets to about fifteenth street.

It has been all wrong for the trustees of Sanitary District No. 1 to make these $100,000 levies for the last two years and it will be an outrage on the taxpayers of Sanitary District No. 1 to continue these $100,000 levies for the next two or three years. If bonds can be sold the taxpayers of Sanitary District No. 1 should not be called upon to pay for any more of the cost of the disposal plant and the large conduits. There should be, and I suppose there is, money enough on hand to go ahead with the construction of the disposal plant. And at the November election there should be submitted to the electors of Sanitary District No. 1 a proposition for bonds enough to complete the entire construction of the disposal plant and building all of the large conduits. The necessity for building this disposal plant is so great there can be no question but what the bonds will be voted. If this course is taken everything in connection with the sewage disposal can be completed during the year 1923, but if the completion of the entire disposal business depends upon tax levies it will take from two to three years to completely finish the disposal of the sewage business.

The tax levies for 1922 will be made this month by the county commissioners. The levy made by the trustees of Sanitary District No. 1 should not include anything for the construction of the disposal plant.

C. G. BULLOCK

GORILLA IS LIKE US.

(ew York Times.)

Surgeons and scientists who have been studying the anatomy of "the late John Daniel," the gorilla imported by the Barnum & Bailey circus, reported to the American Society of Mammalogists that they had found the gorilla closely related to man in many physical details. They said that his resemblance to man was more marked than in the case of chimpanzees—the next highest type of the primates to gibbons and orang-utans.

When John Daniel died in Madison Square Garden, about a year ago, the carcass was turned over to the American Museum of Natural History for examination and preservation. It was taken to the College of Surgeons, the Columbia university medical school, and there dissected. Brain, feet and other members were studied closely by a score of experts, some of whom discussed their findings yesterday in a series of lectures at a meeting of the society.

Dr. Frederick Tilney, professor of neurology in the College of Physicians and Surgeons, said that the brain of the gorilla was closer to the human brain in development and power than were the brains of chimpanzees and other similar animals. His topic in the discussion was phylogenetic relations of the gorilla, and he compared John's brain with that of a chimpanzee and also with the brain of a 2-year old child.

There was no mention in any of the lectures of any of the assertions of William Jennings Bryan, who has been attacking Darwinism lately on the ground that man was created as he exists now and was not evolved from a lower form. Speakers made it plain that they had no theory that man was descended from an ape, but probably evolved, as did other primates from an early anthropomorphus type.

The he-flapper's fault is that he isn't masculine enough for a woman to kiss and isn't feminine enough for a man to kiss.

How To Be Sure You Are Getting The Best Lubricant

THERE is one way to make certain that your motor, with its individual lubricating requirements, will get exactly the motor oil it needs.

It's simple, too. Glance at the Polarine Chart. Wherever Polarine and Red Crown Gasoline are sold, this useful chart, containing lubrication specifications for all seasons and all makes of motors, is available for your use.

Continued operation with inferior oils, or oil of the wrong body, might shorten the life of your motor by years—or cost a substantial sum in repairs. Why risk it? The Polarine Chart places the services of highly-trained lubrication engineers at your disposal. While they were studying your motor they were studying our lubricants. The Polarine Chart is the result.

Polarine Oil is made in four grades—medium light, medium heavy, heavy and extra heavy. But there is only one quality. Get the proper grade for your car—at the same place you buy clean-burning, scientifically balanced Red Crown Gasoline. You will begin cutting down motoring costs immediately.

The Red Crown Road Map contains the Polarine Chart and a copy has been mailed to you. Write for your copy if you have not received it.

(Associated Press)

PEKIN, June 7—Development of the last twenty-four hours indicated early today that China, which a few days ago, seemed on the verge of a unified government located here, was in grave danger of a worse split than ever with the north and south drifting only toward civil war.

Wu Pei-Fu's plan for Li Yuan-Hung to resume the presidency of centralized government in Pekin was feared to have shattered itself against the rock of opposition in the form of Sun Yat-Sen who, according to advices received here yesterday indicated he would refuse to relinquish the presidency of his south China government at Canton.

In the last ten days, Wu Pei-Fu several times has said that unless Sun resigned, the Chihli forces of Wu would invade the south China territory

Will Accept Conditionally

Tien Tsin, June 7.—In a manifesto telegraphed throughout the country today, denouncing scathingly the military clique that reduced China to political impotence, Li Yuan-Hung laid down the condition under which he was willing to accede to the request that he assume the task of forming a head for a new centralized government in Pekin Li was president of China in 1917 when the pressure of militarists forced him out of office.

Referring to the numerous requests he had received to resume the presidency, Li said these petitions had not left him unmoved. He then recounted what he termed his sin against parliament for giving in to the militarists and dissolving in 1917 He spoke of the ceaseless fighting in China in the last decade fearing it was not yet over. Wherein lay the root of all this strife" He answered that it could be found in the Tuchun or system of provincial military governors

Li declared himself reluctant to return to Pekin, but said he would undertake the responsibility if all Tuchuns and high inspecting commissioners would resign immediately and accompany him to the capital to confer on the welfare of China

Christianity Must Be Aggressive Says Theological Head

"Christianity must be aggressive," said President Edward Dunlavy of Iliff school of theology before the theological students and faculty at Nebraska Wesleyan Tuesday evening.

"The pastor must be outwardly mild," said the speaker, "but inwardly full of dynamic power. The preacher must lay out a program and hold himself to a rigorous line of study.

"One cannot become very enthusiastic about something he knows nothing about Some preachers use up their supply of sermons and, being too lazy to do a man's job, leave for a new parish The preacher must have a great vision of what is before him

"The young man who wants to preach should feel that he is going to live forever and be willing to prepare himself accordingly. It is necessary to strip ourselves of many things we have considered essential."

BOY ACCIDENTALLY SHOT BY BROTHER

Continues at Work With Thirty-one Missiles In His Body.

(Special to The Star.)

WOLBACH, June 7.—Albert, the twelve-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Klein, is carrying a charge of shot in his body as the result of the accidental discharge of a gun in the hands of his brother, Herman, aged 14. The two boys were harrowing corn, and as the prairie squirrels were numerous they took the gun to the field with them to shoot the squirrels. Some neighbor boys came to the field and in demonstraitng the gun the shell became clogged. Albert had started with the team and harrow for another round of the field and was perhaps forty or fifty yards away, when the shell was accidentally discharged; the full charge striking him on the left side and scattering the full length of his body. One pellet penetrated the skin on his forehead.

The lad insisted on making the round of the field before he would go to the house. He was then brought to town and the doctor succeeded in extracting several of the shot, but many still remain in his body. Thirty-one of the pellets took effect. Outside of carrying his left arm in a sling and a slight limp on his left leg, he appears at this time to be none the worse from his experience.

Opposes a State Tax For Support Of the Schools

(Special to The Star.)

BLUE HILL, Neb., June 7.—C. L. Westcott, superintendent of the Blue Hill schools and candidate for state superintendent, believes that the right of the people to manage their schools and school affairs must be given full recognition. The school is the pride of the community in which it exists, he says, and the local taxation principle for the support of these schools should not be done away with.

Superintendent Westcott declares that the public school is a democratic institution, and that democratic principles sould prevail in its management. Taxaxtion or educational policies should not be centralized so that an opportunity is given the few to domineer over and handle them as they see fit. It is the money of the people which is being spent upon the schools and the people must have a voice in the control of them.

Remodeling Church At Harvard Draws Near Completion

(Special to The Star.)

HARVARD, Neb., June 7.—The work of providing for a basement and raised foundation under the Methodist church building has very nearly reached completion, after which a tower is to be erected on the corner fronting the street intersection.

The plans called for turning the church halt about, raising the entire building about six feet and excavating the basement and laying floors and foundations underneath the old edifice. This was then lowered to the nearly completed foundation and when the tower is built on will make a very neat appearing house of worship.

The Methodists are now holding services with the Congregationalists, with whom they united during the fuel-conserving period, the two churches meeting in the Congregational church under the name of Federated church. Rev. B. N. Kunkle is their pastor.

REPLY MADE TO HAVELOCK LOCAL BY MID-ROADER

Frank M. Coffey Says Is Not Presuming to Speak for Labor.

Takes a Crack at "Mullen-Sorsenson-Hitchcock" Political Bund.

Frank M. Coffey, secretary of the Nebraska Federation of Labor, has sent the following communication to The Lincoln Star, in reply to a resolution adopted by a local union in Havelock:

The political bund, manipulated by Mullen-Sorensen-Hitchcock, operating out of room 315 Funke building, planted a resolution out in one of the Havelock local unions the first of the week. This resolution purports to be a criticism of Frank M. Coffey and Anson H. Bigelow for political activities, said activities not being in harmony with the aforesaid political bund.

We hold no brief for Bigelow, but we know him to be an able and courageous man, a man whose word is good, and a man who keeps his obligations to his fellow man, as evidenced by his refusal to break his pledge made at Grand Island in December that he would sign only petitions of bona fide members of the progressive party for nomination as a candidate in the progressive primary.

During my sixteen years' official connection with the Nebraska State Federation of Labor I have never presumed to speak for labor. There is only one member of a labor union for whom I can speak with authority and an assurance that there will be no come-back—and that is myself.

We will be disappointed if succeeding republican and democratic county conventions this summ do not adopt resolutions, referring in caustic language to men and women who do not support republican and democratic candidates for office Therefore, the resolution adopted at Havelock is no surprise.

Not Part of Federation.

It must be remembered that the Havelock local unions are no part of the Nebraska State Federation of Labor; that an examination of the registration rolls of the progressive party in the state reveals that only four citizens of Havelock are members of the progressive party.

It must also be remembered that the representative and senatorial convention held in Havelock for the progressive party, that only nine persons were present—three of the nine were farmers, and two were residents of Lincoln.

Bigelow and Coffey are not "fighting" Norton nd Wray. But Bigelow and Coffey are contending for a candidate for governor and senator pledged to a program, including some of the fundamentals which Havelock labor unions have in the past indicated that they favored. Among them:

The right of collective bargaining through representtives of their own choosing, and of collective marketing.

Prices for farm products must not be permitted to go below the cost of production, plus a reasonable profit.

Wages must not be permitted to a below the cost of living at American standards with a margin for old age.

Bigelow and Coffey do not presume to speak for labor, neither do they claim tht they are leaders in the labor movement. But both and each of them do their own thinking, pick their own candidates for office whom they care to support, and no political bund dictates to them or writes resolutions for them to adopt.

MANY AT FUNERAL.

(Special to The Star.)

The Independent Woman

is one of the brighest jewels which adorns our modern, economic system. But too often this independence is gained at the cost of health, and the wage-earning woman struggles through her duties, a prey to nervousness, backache and despondency. Does not her independence then become more of a burden than a joy? Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has helped many such women to regain their zest in life, and will help many more. — Advertisement.

Two Painfully Injured In An Auto Collision

Robert Borgens, 10, living nat 525 B street, and G. C. Eisenach, 308 F street, received painful injuries about 6 p. m. Tuesday at Fifteenth and F streets, when the truck which was driven by Eisenach, collided with a car driven by B. A. George, 1826 South Twenty-sixth street, and smashing against the curb, turned over.

The boy received a broken right hand and a very badly bruised shoulder, besides other body bruises, according to Dr. E. L. Holyoke, 1515 F street, who attended the injured. Eisenach received cuts and bruises about his body, and a skinned back, according to Dr. Holyoke.

"How they both escaped death is more than I can see," Dr. Holyoke said after viewing the wreckage of the truck which rolled over at least twice. The George car was not badly damaged, and Mr. George was not injured.

According to Harry Schmitz, 1548 G street, who witnessed the accident, the truck hit the George car, then skidded clear across the street hit the curb, and faced in the opposite direction to which it had been going, before turning over.

"The man and the oy were thrown to the pavement," Mr. Schmitz said. "They did not appear badly hurt. The top of the truck and two front wheels were broken off."

Prepare to Open Hard Coal Mines

POTTSVILLE, Pa., June 7.—There are unmistakable signs that the lethargy of the anthracite coal operators in the face of an entire shut down of their mines is about to cease and a different course adopted. The Philadelphia & Reading Coal and Iron company today interviewed its 1,000 repair shop men here, ascertaining how many would be willing to act as deputies.

The answer, whether favorable or not, was taken down in writing. A large order for cots was also given a leading business firm. In the past such moves have always preceded attempts to operate the collieries.

ADVERTISING IS BEST WEAPON IN BUSINESS FIGHT

Banker Declares Newspaper the "Big Bertha" of All known Methods.

Non-Believers Steadily Retiring Into Background—Bank Publicity Makes Savers.

(Associated Press.)

ABERDEEN, S. D., June 7.—Competition in business is coming back into the world with a vengeance and the merchant, manufacturer or banker who expects to get ahead from this time on must realize that he must fight his way upward, declared George Woodruff of Chicago, vice president of the National Bank of the Republic, in an address before the South Dakota bankers' association here today.

"Advertising a bank was the subject of Mr. Woodruff's address.

Advertising, he asserted, is the most effective of all weapons in the fight for business, and among the various kinds of advertising newspaper advertising is unquestionably the 'Big Bertha' of them all.

"The big idea," said Mr. Woodruff, spelling the word 'idea,' is to accomplish four things. These four things may be easily remembered because, written in acrostic style, they spell the word idea.

"The four words for the letter, he said, are: Interest, Desire, Enthusiasm and Action.

First you must secure interest, he continued. "Your advertisment must be so well laid out, so attractively worded, so compelling in appearance that it will secure the reader's interest.

Must Create Desire.

Secondy, you must create in the hind of your prospect, the desire to patronize your bank and make use of the service it offers. You must show how and why it is advisable from the readers' viewpoint to save money.

"Granting that your advertisement has aroused interest and created desire, if it is to secure maximum results, must breathe and inspire enthusiasm, it must arouse your reading public to such a degree of enthusiasm over saving money, over paying bills by check or protecting their valuable by a safety deposit box that they will be ready to put their desire into action. Before your advertisement may be considered a success, it must compel action.

Newspaper advertising must be supported by more direct advertising he continued. This, he said, can be done through house organs, personal appeal letters, blotters, fioders, booklets, calendars and novelties.

Bankers who do not believe that advertising pays are steadily retiring to the background," Mr. Woodruff continued. "This is surely not to the disadvantage of our country, for bank publicity is daily turning spenders into savers and creating that spirit of universal thrift upon which the future economic stability of America must necessarily be based."

Woman Plans to Push Prosecution Against Nebraskan

CHICAGO, June 6. — Eugene Bryant, alleged 'poison pen writer," of Hartington, Neb., will not be spared prosecution because he has been found mentally irresponsible, according to Mrs. A. H. Shotwell, to whom his letters were addressed. Mrs Shotwell said she would prosecute Bryant despite the expert's opinions of his mentality

HENRY SPENCER, well-known and respected citizen of Watertown, N. Y., who reports he has gained 15 pounds since he began taking Tanlac and always tells his friends how this medicine restored his health.

"My friends often say: 'Never saw you looking better; what are you doing for yourself?' and I always tell them: 'Well, I am taking Tanlac now,'" recently declared Henry Spencer, 415 East St., Watertown, a well-known and highly respected citizen.

"For more than a year," he said, "I seemed to be run down all over. From 160 pounds I fell off to 135, lost my appetite and my stomach gave me no end of trouble. The little I ate caused me to bloat with gas and I was subject to dull, heavy headaches. I had no energy and it was all I could do to get around the house. I had dizzy spells when everything would blur before my eyes and I had to catch myself to keep from falling.

"Well, now, I have gained 15 pounds, feel better in every way and can work as well as ever, since taking Tanlac. I relish what I eat, with a fine appetite, and gas, indigestion, headache and dizziness are completely gone. Yes, sir, I just can't say too much for Tanlac."

Tanlac is sold by all good druggists.—Advertisement.

SPANISH WAR VETS TO MEET JUNE 12

Annual Encampment Will Take Place at Hastings This Year.

(Special to The Star.)

HASTINGS, Neb., June 7.—The United Spanish War Veterans, department of Nebraska, will hold their fifteenth annual encampment at Hastings next week, beginning Monday, June 12 and continuing to Wednesday, inclusive. Under the constitution of this organization, the annual encampment days must include flag day, June 14, and this year the encampment will close on that day. The encampment is an open air gathering, and the camp will be known as Camp Stotzenberg, named after Col. Stotzenberg of the First Nebraska regiment, who was killed in the Philippine insurrection.

The camp will be stationed in Prospect park and the big chautauqua pavilion will be used for the meetings. Mess will be served on the grounds, and the veterans are looking forward to a good time. On flag day there will be appropriate ceremonies a feature of which will be a big parade, in which four stands of colors will be used thus recognizing the veterans of the G. A. R., of the Spanish-American war, the American Legion, and Co. G., of the national guard. The colors will be grouped distinctively. It was twenty-five years ago this April that the boys participated in this war and about fifteen hundred of the veterans reside in Nebraska.

The department commander visited Hastings Saturday and gave his approval to the plans and program as they had been arranged by local camp and by Sunday everything will be in readiness for registration and assignment of quarters.

Trumbull Woodmen And Families at Big Celebration

(Special to The Star.)

TRUMBULL, Neb., June 7.—The celebration held in Trumbull Friday night by the Modern Woodmen of America was one of the biggest events of the season, the entertainment beginning at 2 o'clock, when the band gave a fine concert on Main street, then heading a parade which marched to the ball park.

The baseball game between the Skinner nine and the M. W. A., members resulted in a victory for the Skinner boys. The first ball was thrown by the village mayor, George O'Donnell, with Henry Roggy, the venerable counsel of the M. W. A., as catcher.

Following the baseball game there was an intermission in the program until six o'clock, when another band concert was given from the band stand and at 7 o'clock all formed in a line outside of the hall and were ushered in and seated at the tables, where a fine banquet was served by members of the Royal Neighbors lodge and wives of the Woodmen, beside several outsiders, who helped to make the banquet a success

There were three hundred plates laid in the Woodman hall and also a goodly number served at the Methodist church basement, where the children were entertained during the lectures and the dinner hour. A number of toasts were given, all very interesting and entertaining and the entertainment broke up at a late hour.

"Kindly publicly announce to my constituents that I have positively determined not to be a candidate for re-election. A backset I have suffered in the last few days with the added conditions of weight and strength noticeably reduced in the last year convinces me that to now assume the responsibilities of a congressional condidacy would endanger my permanent health, and certainly deprive me of the rest essential to recuperation.

"My feelings of gratitude are unbounded for the magnanimous consideration shown me by aspirants for the office and friends and supporters in general.

"M. P. KINKAID."

Plowing Corn in Northwest; Other Crops Look Fine

NORFOLK, Neb., June 7.—First cultivation of corn has began in this vicinity and farmers report that in six weeks they will have the new corn laid by. All of the new corn is in the ground and attention on farms in north Nebraska is being turned toward fall grain which is heading out in fine shape. Pastures look good, though notwithstanding heavy rains which have been general in this territory more moisture is needed, some farm experts say, to make conditions just right.

The alfalfa harvest has begun, the first cutting being general all over this vicinity. The condition of alfalfa is excellent and the quantity will be larger than a year ago.

The potato crop in north Nebraska will be big, due to unusual fine condition of the vines. Some early potatoes have been harvested by local gardeners.

The fruit crop of north Nebraska also promises to be good this year, farmers reporting an unusually excellent condition of apple and cherry trees. Some of the early cherries are beginning to ripen. The local strawberry crop indicates a heavy yield.

Larson contends his band is entitled to undivided support, while the park board thinks the fund and the honors should be passed around.

STRIKE CLOUDS IN LABOR SKY

Ballots Being Prepared and Vote Is Called Through Local Unions.

Action Taken As Result of Wage Edict By Rail Labor Board.

(Associated Press.)

CINCINNATI, June 7.—A triple barreled strike vote calling for a pole of the 400,00 0railway shopmen of the country on three separate questions, was ordered by the executive council of the shop crafts unions here today. Instructions were sent by B. M. Jewell, head of the shop unions, to headquarters in Chicago to expedite the printing and distribution of the ballots with all possible speed.

Clouds on Horizon.

(International News Service.)

CINCINNATI, O., June 7.—"The situation is exceedingly serious and present indications would tend to forecast a vote favorable to strike," Bert M. Jewell, president of the railway employes department of the American Federation of Labor asserted here this morning in commenting on the decision of the heads of the brotherhoods here to call a strike vote, returnable June 30.

The decision, made last night, came as a surprise, as leaders had declared previously that under no condition would a strike vote be called by this conference.

The executives of the brotherhoods were continuing their sessions this morning working out the details of the strike vote.

It was said that the strike ballots will be sent to 1,200,000 men direct through the local unions in order to expedite the voting.

Samuel Compers, president of the American Federation of Labor, who yesterday attacked the Coronado decision of Chief Justice Taft, today informally expressed his approval of the decision of the brotherhoods to call a strike vote. He declared that the cuts in wages ordered for the shopmen were "beyond human endurance" and added that a vigorous fight would be necessary to obtain justice.

If the vote favors the strike the men will be called out July 1. Mr. Jewell said this morning before the chieftains went into executive session.

To Fight for Existence.

(International News Service.)

WASHINGTON, June 7.—Organized labor, beset by blows which threaten organization disintegration, plans through its national convention in Cincinnati to clear idustrial decks for a battle for its existence.

Smarting under repeated defeats, its heaviest blow received from the supreme court's decision that labor unions are amendable to strike damages, the American Fecderation of Labor enters its coming meeting grimly determined to fight to the last, according to labor leaders in Washington.

Of paramount importance to the convention which begins June 12, will be the decision whether orgnaized labor throughout the United States will back a contemplated nation-wide railroad strike. Officials of the American Federation of Labor declared today that the big issues to come before the meeting will be:

1—The railroad wage cuts and the possibility of a country wide strike because of them.

2—The recent decision of the United States supreme court holding labor unions may be sued for damages due to strikes which strikes at the very vitals of organized labor.

3—Where organized labor will stand in the coming elections.

Best informed labor federation officials say no opposition appears to the re-election of Samuel Compers as president.

Says People Have Dinner Desire and A Lunch Income

(By International News Service.)

CHICAGO, June 7.—It may be news to housewives, but for four months, according to delegates attending the National Wholesale Grocers' convention today, the price of food has been dropping steadily.

More, the price of food will continue to decline toward a point where the ordinary wallet can reach the price easily. But—

Prices will never get back to where they were before the war. It seems the consumer is to blame for this himself. During the war, it was explained by George Lichty, wholesale grocer of Chicago, wages were high and the people developed eccentric tastes, going in for imported foods and extravagant dishes.

Now, pocketbooks are smaller, yet the appetites remain.

TELEPHONE COSTS GIVEN BY EXPERT

Accountant Shows High Operating and Maintenance Costs by Bell.

Lincoln Company's Expenses Were Less in Several Respects.

By means of statistical exhibits prepared by O. E. Johnson, chief accountant for the state railway commission, who was a witness at the Northwestern Bell telephone rate hearing Wednesday, an effort was made to show that the corporation serving Omaha and northern Nebraska territory has unnecessarily high operating, maintenance and supervisory costs, as compared with those of the Lincoln Telephone & Telegraph Co.

Excluding the cities of Lincoln and Omaha from this parallel, Mr. Johnson declared that the average direct operating expense per station for the Bell in its section of the state during 1921 was $1.626 per month, as against $1.102 for the Lincoln. This was a difference of 52.4 cents per month, or $6.288 per year, in favor of the Lincoln, he said.

Since the Bell had an average of 42,566 stations in service, Johnson estimated that it would have saved a total of $267,655 last year if it had operated as economically as the Lincoln company did.

A further economy of $115,781 would have resulted if the Bell had kept it soverhead cost within the same limits as those of the Lincoln corporation, the witness asserted.

He computed a third item of $35,530 which he claimed would have been saved by a combination of the other two elements.

This made a total of $418,966 which Mr. Johnson estimated the Bell concern could have saved from what it actually spent, had it conducted its business on the same basis as the Lincoln company.

Comparison of Costs.

Comparing the Northwestern Bell costs in Nebraska with those of the same system in all the five states where it operates, Johnson found them higher here by 2.26 per cent for maintenance, and 22.5 per cent in the commercial department, while traffic expenses were about the same. In actual cash, a saving of $44,499 would have been realized here if the outlay had been held down in Nebraska to the same basis as for the entire system, he testified.

In another comparative exhibit, taking certain selected exchanges in Nebraska, Johnson showed that the cost of supervising pole line construction by the Bell ranged from 9.3 to 26.1 per cent of the total while the Lincoln expended under the same hading only 2.8 to 12.1 per cent.

Materials represented a much larger part of the total cost in the Lincoln company's accounts than in the Bell, while the loading expense figured in reverse proportion.

Bell attorneys and officials expected to assail the accountant's figures on the ground that he had omitted from his calculation a relatively high outlay for general expenses by the Lincoln company as contrasted with alower one for the bell.

They claimed, also, that the difference in cost might be explained by showing that the Bell is maintaining its properties in better condition than the Lincoln is doing.

MEIER TELLS OF AID GIVEN VETS

Payments Made of State Fund to Spanish War Soldiers.

Out of forty-seven applications for assistance from dependents of Spanish-American war veterans, the committee supervising expenditures from the $10,000 state appropriation has approved thirty-six and holds the other eleven in abeyance. O. W. Meier, as historian of the state association of Spanish war veterans, will make a full report at the state encampment in Hastings, June 12 to 14, inclusive.

Seven thousand dollars of the relief fund was deposited in a savings bank at 4 per cent interest for a time, and on July 1 interest will be due for another six months on $4,000. A current checking account of $677 is on hand, besides. The total amount paid out to dependents so far is $5,477.

The largest sum paid to any family was $385.25 to a widow in Lincoln who has seven dependant children. The largest monthly allowance paid was $35 to a widow at Ainsworth with six children.

Land Commissioner Dan Swanson has charge of the fund and draws checks to the beneficiaries upon recommendation of Mr. Meier and the committee which investigates applications.

WILL WAIT FOR NOVEMBER BALLOT

the short term that are made in regular form, whether by those who are also running for the full term or by others, and certify the names to county clerks in the First district, unless someone enjoins him in a suit at law.

This means that any candidate running for the full term may also run for the unexpired term, and his name would go to the ballot twice—once under each heading. The state law contains an old provision, enacted in the old days of democratic-populist-free silver republican fusion, that a candidate's name shall appear on the ballot ony once.

Literally, this would bar full term candidates from filing for the short term, but Mr. Davis thinks the courts might construe the statute as mere prohibiting a candidate's name being printed twice in the same division or under the same heading.

This law has been on the books for twenty-five years, but there have been a number of instances where it was not followed. In Lancaster county two years ago, District Judge E. J. Clements was a candidate for both a long and a short term on the bench, and his name appeared twice. R. B Howell of Omama is running this year for United States senator and also for membership on the Omaha water board. E. J Burkett of Lincoln had his name on the ballot in 1904 as a candidate for United States senator and also for congress in the First district, though the senatorial vote at that time was only an expression of popular preference

Bases Ruling on Code Decision.

Attorney General Davis said his holding as to the acceptance of filings by the secretary of state was based on the first decision of the Nebraska supreme court in the code referendum case of three years ago. In that decision the court declared that the secretary of state performs nothing but a ministerial function in regard to filing petitions, and that it is his duty to receive and file them as tendered when they appear to be in lawful form.

It is admitted by Mr. Davis, however, that the question is a doubtful one. He suggests that anybody who may object to a candidate's name going upon the ballot twice can bring an injunction suit against the secretary of state and test the matter in court.

Secretary of State Amsberry said he would follow the advice of the attorney general and receive filings for the short congressional term on the strength of it. His office will notify county clerks in the First district to that effect, in accordance with the governor's amended primary proclamation. The names of all candidates who file for the short term will be certified to the clerks as part of the official ballot.

Views of Attorney General.

In his communication to Governor McKelvie, answering the latter's request, Attorney General Davis points out the two methods that might be folowed—a convention or committee nomination and a special election, or nomination in the primaries and election in November—and says:

"The latter of those two courses seems to me by far the most practical. The day is long past when the people want a political convention to nominate their congressman. The calling of a special election will necessitate this unfortunate expedients and also entail much expense.

"Letting the matter go until the general election in November would eliminate all additional expense and give the people a chance to make their nomination under the primary law in July. In addition to these considerations, it is currently reported that congress will adjourn during July or early August, and will not, of course, meet again until December, so that even if a special election were called, the person elected would be of little service until December, and by that time someone could be elected at the regular election.

There is no denying the fact that the law is not clear, and that it is a complicated situation. The plan I have proposed is, I think, as much justified from the statutes as any other, and I believe has the additional merit of considering the practical aspects of the situation."

DEATHS CEASE IN VOLGA DISTRICT

Rev. Wagner Writes Famine Region Receives Supplies More Rapidly.

Deaths from starvation in the German colonies along the Volga river, have been stopped through the supplies distributed there by the American Relief Association, according to a letter received by Dr. H. P. Wekesser, Wednesday morning, from Rev. Jacob Wagner of Lincoln, who is doing relief work in Russia.

The letter was dated May 15, 1922, and took only twenty-two days to reach Lincoln. This is very nearly the normal pre-war transmission period, and indicates, according to Dr. Wekesser, that conditions there are being improved.

According to Rev. Mr. Wagner, the food supplies are now coming in more rapidly into the afflicted districts, and general relief is in sight.

League Expresses Noble Aspirations, Coolidge Declares

WASHINGTON, June 7.—Despite the imperfections which might be contained in its terms the League of nations is at least the attempted expression of a noble aspiration for world association and understanding, Vice-President Coolidge in an address here today. Addressing the graduating class of American University the vice-president said the lessons of the great war had not gone unlearned and that there was a "general admission throughout the earth of a mutual relationship and a mutual responsibility."

"There is the four-power treaty and the covenant for the limitation and extent and use of armaments, all expressive of an even higher and higher and nobler aspiration and an even firmer reliance upon reason as the foundation for all peace," the vice president said.

HURLS DEFIANCE AT RAIL CHIEFS AND LABOR BOARD

Union Leaders Say Fight With Carriers Will Be One to Finish.

Send Out Strike Vote Ballots and Bran Decision Tuesday "Apology."

(International News Service.)

CHICAGO, June 7.—Railroad labor today has thrown down the gauntlet to its employers and to the United State railroad labor board and is squaring away for a finish fight on the wage cut issue. Every indication coming from headquarters of the rail unions, whose wages have been reduced more than $100,000,000 annually in two recent decisions of the labor board, is that no quarter will be given and that the campaign will be fought to a definite conclusion.

Strike ballots are in the mail today to more than 1,200,000 members of the railway employes department of the American Federation of Labor, the Brotherhood of Maintenance of Way employes and other labor organizations affected by the wage cuts. The ballots are returnable June 30, which makes it possible for a strike to be called July 1, the date when the wage cuts become effective.

Although no overtures for an active alliance with the striking coal miners has been made, so far as has been learned here, the possibility of the defensive alliance with the coal miners taking a positive form that eventually would culminate in one of the greatest industrial tie ups in the history of the nation is not discounted by observers of the situation.

Hostile to Board.

The rail unions, after placing considerable dependence on the railway labor board during the past two years, have turned to the other extreme and, so far as those affected by present wage cuts are concerned, are openly hostile.

In a statement that accomplished the announcement of the strike vote, B. M. Jewell, president of the railway employes' department of the American Federation of Labor, said:

"By no stretch of facts can this decision (the $60,000,000 wage cuts for shopmen announced yesterday) be justified. I am astounded that body created to help the railroads dignity should be willing to send out such a hastily dressed up and obviously unfair apology for rates of pay awarded."

Jewell's statement said that the board's ruling would result in "an immediate confirmation of the belief among our membership" that the labor board is "not an impartial court created to dispense justice but is a body created to help the railroads carry out their labor policy."

Among railway executives the opinion was expressed that the wage cut decisions would help make up for the recent freight rate reductions ordered by the interstate commerce commission.

(Special to The Star.)

HOLDREGE, Neb., June 7.—The question of building a hospital in Holdrege is being discussed and is receiving favorable consideration by the business men. The physicians in the surrounding towns are anxious for one to be built in Holdrege.

TOUVELLE IS TO QUIT STATE JOB

Head of Securities Bureau Will Enter Practice of Law Here.

Chief Guy T. TouVelle of the state bureau of securities has advised Governor McKelvie and Trade and Comerce Secretary Hart of his intention to resign and enter the practice of law in Lincoln. The resignation has not yet been formally tendered, however. Mr. TouVille will remain until his superiors decide upon his successor.

Upon his retirement, he will become connected with the Lincoln law firm of Fawcett & Mockett. He will make a specialty of cases in which his experience as head of the state blue sky bureau will be valuable.

Mr. TouVelle was in charge of that bureau for the state railway commission, and went with it as special counsel when it was incorporated under the code law in 1919 as part of the trade and commerce department. He framed the new blue sky law passed by the legislature of 1921, which he regards as "airtight." This act is being taken as a model by other states in enacting blue sky legislation.

New Library Budget Calls for $1,000 Less Than in 1921

The proposed city library budget which will call for expenditures a thousand dollars less than appropriated last year, was completed Tuesday night at the regular meeting of the library board. This will be submitted to the city council for approval at budget making time this summer and will probably be accepted without much heration.

The library business is growing substantially, it is shown in the report of Miss Lula E. Horne, librarian. The year's circulation was more than 50,000 greater than the previous year. About 5,000 books were added during the year. This increase in circulatin and in the number of books has necessitated a gradual increase in expenses so that the figure for the coming year, while nearly $1,000 less than the appropriation is really about $1,000 more than was actually spent.

The total for next year is figured at $26,619. The largest items are salaries, $14,000, binding and rebinding, $5,000 and new books, $3,000. The fund for new books is much increased by the addition of the money received for fine and penalties which last year amounted to $1,500.

The monthly report for May showed that the total circulation was 21,352 increased from 20,965 in May, 1921.

One assistant at $1,800 was authorized by the board and the allowance of $250 for expenses for Miss Horne while attending the library association meetings at Detroit, was approved.

The documents are said to relate to her birth in this country in 1881 in Louisville, Ky., were presented.

Princess Tschernitschew related her experiences as a stowaway and stewardess aboard a trans-Atlantic liner in reaching the United States after the crificixion by bolshevists, of her husband and the disappearance of her eight year old son.

ILLINOIS OUT OF NATIONAL MEET

"Big Ten" Track Champions Object to System of Scoring Points.

CHICAGO, June 7.—Changes in the method of scoring points in track and field meets which are to be inaugurated in the national intercollegiate meet on Stagg field, June 16 and 17, led today to announcement that the University of Illinois will not compete in the tournament.

Coach Harry Gill of the Illini expressed dissatisfaction over the scoring system, which will accord five, three, two, one and one-half points respectively to the first five men placing in each event. The customary system is to give the first five men five, four, three, two and one points respectively.

Gill's contention is that the new system favors teams made up of stars who are capable of winning a large number of first places and handicaps a well-balanced team that depends upon second and third places for many of its scores.

Withdrawal of the Illini eliminates a strong contender for the championship and makes the chances of California, which has a strong team entered, that much brighter.

PILOT OF GIANTS BOOSTS CAVENEY

McGraw Rates Red Shortstop as Worthy Successor to Hans Wagner.

BY DAVIS J. WALSH.
(International News Service.)

NEW YORK, June 7.—John McGraw, who has seen ball clubs and, particularly, shortstops come and go since the days of the old Baltimore Orioles and Bill Dahlen, today nominated the Cincinnati Reds as the team that had shown him the most during his recent western trip and Jimmy Caveney as the nearest approach to Honus Wagner it had ever been his good fortune to see.

"What is the best in the west?" he repeated. "Well, the Cincinnati Reds, just as they were going when we met them. They were playing great ball, particularly Caveney and Pinelli, and they got fine pitching from Rixey, Donohue and Luque.

"Of course, I look to the Pirates to give us our hardest fight. They have the speed and the pitchers, and this lad Tryner in the infield is a real ball player.

Just Like the Dutchman.

"But Caveney for mine. He plays shortstop just like the big Dutchman did ten years ago and the way he went against us convinced me that he is not far behind Honus.

"Caveney has the same ham-like hands and he scoops in the ball with the sweeping motion of a man using a pair of butterfly nets. That was Wagner's style, you remember. Some people claim Caveney doesn't cover ground like Wagner did and maybe he doesn't. But you couldn't prove it by the plays he made against us."

Of his own club, McGraw had much to say and little of it was unflattering, despite the fact that the Giants have been traveling in neutral for the past month. The boys, he said, weer in a hitting slump, but it wouldn't last long.

"They all fell into a slump together," he declared. "That, and some bad breaks, caused us to drop series after series, but we still lead the National league race and we expect to continue to do so."

Kirkwood Has Low Score; Hutchinson Sure to Qualify

LONDON, June 7.—"Jock" Hutchinson of Chicago, British open golf champion, became an almost certain qualifier in the thousand guineas tourney at Glen Eagles, a forerunner to the British open championship, when he turned in a medal score of 77 for the final eighteen holes of the qualifying round today.

This, with his 75 of yesterday, gave him a thirty-six hole total of 152, which, barring miracles, will qualify him for the match play rounds to follow.

George Duncan, noted British professional had a score of 145, the result of a 72 and a 73.

Vardon Off His Game.

The aging Harry Vardon was a bit off him game, turning in a medal score of 74-81-155, but Ted Ray, his partner, was consistently good with 77-76-153.

Hutchinson slumped during the outgoing journey today, missing a three-foot put on the first hole and driving into a bunker on the fourth. He, however, pulled himself together and played sound golf on the subsequent holes. Kirkwood was at his best throughout.

One of the sensations among the early scores turned in today was a 71 by Compton of Manchester. This equalled the low score of the tourney, furnished by Kirkwood in yesterday's eighteen-hole test.

Low Score by Kirkwood.

GLEN EAGLES, Scotland, June 7.—Joe Kirkwood, Australian champion, today won the qualifying prize in the thousand guineas golf tournament. His 73 today made his total 144 for the 36-hole preliminary.

Prague Wins From Malmo By Shutout

Touching the Bases

Waite Hoyt gets the credit for pitching the Yankees into the first victory of their western trip, but little Whitey Witt was the real victor. He cut off two White Sox rallies with glittering catches.

Five in a row for the Braves.

Sam Rice socked a homer, with Bush on the paths, in the eighth inning and, in consequence, a pitchers' battle between Erickson of the Senators and Coveleskie of the Indians ceased to be.

The Tigers manhandled two Athletic pitchers, Hasty and Yarrison, and won in a slow trot, 14 to 1. Harry Heilmann smote his eighth homer of the season and, subsequently, Bobby Veach for the circuit with three on.

The shocking Mr. Shocker was again his invincible self and the Browns beat the Red Sox 5 to 2. Shocker has won 12 games in 17 starts.

Diamond Dope In State Loop

Defeat of the Links at Fairbury and trouncing of the Hastings Cubs at Norfolk served to tighten the fight for first place in the State league race. Today's percentage table shows Lincoln in the top position, with Fairbury and Hastings tied for second, only two games back of the leaders. Two more defeats at Fairbury would not be sufficient to yank the Links off the upper runs of the pennant ladder—the worst that might happen would merely put the Links and the Coyotes in a tie. Getting rid of the Coyotes Thursday, the Beltzer clan will head for the home yard Friday to take on the Grand Island and Beatrice teams in a stay of six days at Landis Field. Unless the Third Citys and the Elites take an unexpected brace, the Links should make up some lost ground during the coming home series.

Grand Island bumped the Blues Tuesday at Beatrice, the Third Citys thereby compiling their first road victory of the season. Improvement on the part of the Third City aggregation might have been expected. Manager Eddie Roben, after trying out more talent than any other team pilot on the Miles circuit, apparently has landed an acceptable infield and outfield, and in addition has strengthened the pitching department. Third City fans concede that their club is out of the race during the first split season, but they entertain the hope that Roben's aggregation may make things hum in the second slice of the campaign.

Meantime, the Grand Islanders are pulling fine crowds at home, the attendance at the doubleheader May 28 being second only to Lincoln's record turnout the same date. George Segrist's Coyotes were the visitors that day and the Fairbury magnate seconds the motion that Grand Island's loyalty to a losing team is a worth-while advertisement for the Third City.

Although the error column was well smeared in the Beatrice-Grand Island game Tuesday, the fact should not escape notice that the combat was punctuated with five double plays—four by the Blues and one by the Third Citys. Joe Pizer, former Cornhusker varsity second baseman and now with the Blues, had a finger in every one of the four double killings staged by the Beatrice club. Ball games featured by five double plays are infrequent in any league, even in the majors.

When Husky Gibson broke into the Lincoln lineup ten days ago, his exhibition in the right garden inspired many Lincoln fans with the fear that the management of the Links possibly had made a mistake in letting Homer Black get away from the local club. But the very next day Gibson began to do things that have since made him look like a ball player quite capable of making the same critics forget all about the departed Black. The big fellow from Mississippi pulled off a sensational running catch and smacked two line hits. He came right back with the same brand of baseball the very next day and has been showing high class goods in practically every subsequent game. The fielding feature of the Monday game at Beatrice, according to the scribes in the Blue camp, was a one-hand catch by Gibson, while the box score of the Tuesday fray at Fairbury indicates that Gibson rapped out two of the four hits credited to the Links and scored two of the four runs.

Dick Wood, center fielder for the Links, is well up toward the top in the State league scrap for home run honors. The Friend, Neb., athlete has rapped three homers during the five games of the present road trip.

Babe Woolfolk, Fairbury's kid southpaw, today leads the pitchers of the Nebraska loop with a clean sweep of victories in all games to date. While apparently lacking the physique to stand up under frequent use, the Fairbury youth is winning so consistently and decisively that the scouts from the higher leagues soon will be camping on his trail. The Sioux City club of the Western league formerly owned the services of Woolfolk and Lovich and, in releasing them to Fairbury, reserved the right to claim the pick of the Coyote club. As George Segrist seems to be well on the way to the development of a phenomenal pitcher, who promises to bring a round price on the open market, it would be a tough break for the Fairbury owner if Sioux City were to stand in the way of a sale.

Elkhorns Crimp Hastings Clubs' Winning Streak

(Associated Press.)

NORFOLK, Neb., June 7.—Hitting Beck for long hits, the Elkhorns beat Hastings here Tuesday afternoon by a score of 5 to 4. Hastings had a lead of two with two down in the third inning when Beck allowed a single, passed one, hit another and filled the bases. Walter Rouse then connected with the longest hit of the season for a homer and cleared the bases. A triple by Baker of Hastings in the fourth tied the score and in the same frame Claire's double brought in the winning score. The score:

LINKS EASY FOR COYOTE FLINGER

Beltzer's Athletes Held to Four Hits and Lose Ball Game, 9 to 5.

(Special to The Star.)

FAIRBURY, Neb., June 7.—Woolfolk, the Coyote's southpaw phenom, held the Links to four hits, while Norris and Williams were pounded for an even dozen safe blows, a disparity in batting which easily explains Fairbury's victory yesterday, 9 to 5, in the first game of the series.

Dick Wood's circuit clout in the third inning with two on the bases, gave the Links an early advantage, but the Coyotes bunched hits in the fifth, scoring four runs, and clinched victory.

Gibson was the only Lincoln player able to solve Woolfolk's slants consistently, the big right fielder poling two hits in four times at bat. The score:

Do you think before you smoke?

If you believe in thinking before you act—you will think before you smoke. Cigars are not all alike. There are as many varieties as there are of foods and liquids. In the long run, the cigar that will give you greatest enjoyment is the cigar best suited to your physical make-up. Mozart is made particularly for the man who does his best work at high pressure—the man of high nervous energy, who thinks fast and moves fast. Mozart's "mild Havana fragrance" will satisfy him but not "over-smoke" him. If a mild cigar is best suited to you, try Mozarts for a week—and watch.

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.

NEW YORK, June 7.

Trading in stocks today again was featured by strength in special shares and uncertainty among standard issues. Sales approximated 1,1000,000 shares.

Opening quotations on the stock exchange today gave promise of another unsettled session, the tread of most issues being distinctly downward, speculative rails and oils were exception, however. Wheeling & Lake Erie common and preferred, Peoria & Eastern and Phillips Petroleum adding moderately to yesterday's advances. Lake Erie & Western was slightly reactionary and California Petroleum made a further decline from last week's vigorous advance. In the general list pressure continued to be shown by popular steels, equipments, motors and some of the food specialties. Preliminary quotations for foreign exchange were irregular, most of the European remittances, the British rate excepted, continued to ease.

The market improved during the first hour on buying of minor motors, steels and oils, especially Pierce-Arrow preferred, Maxwell A and B, Replogle, Vanadium, Iron Products, Pressed Steel Car and Cast-iron Pipe, these gaining 1 to 3 points. The long account was encouraged by cheap money. Call loans opened at 3½ per cent, the lowest initial quotations in a fortnight. Much of the improvement was cancelled before noon when offerings of such leaders as Baldwin, Studebaker, Mexican Petroleum and Standard Oils of New Jersey and California caused reactions of 1 or 2 points. Some of yesterday's strong issues in the railway list were subjected to realizing sales, especially Reading, St. Louis & Western, Lake Erie & Western and Pere Marquette. Coppers were lower and food specialties receded on selling of American Sugar.

Speculation quieted down in the early afternoon and the contraction in offerings encouraged some of the pools to resume operations. Cosden was run up 2 points to a new high record for the year. Recoveries from the low prices of the morning of a point or so were made by various other oils, Studebaker and Retail Stores.

Steels of the merger variety, notably Midvale, Luckawanna and Republic, were bought later at advances of 1½ to almost 3 points and high grade rails hardened. The closing was steady.

GRAIN MARKETS.

CHICAGO, Ill., June 7.

WHEAT—Wheat scored a moderate upturn in price today during the early dealings, traders' attention being given chiefly to relative firmness shown by the Liverpool market. A dry section which apparently was developing in the spring crop belt attracted considerable notice, however, and so likewise did continued meagreness of receipts here. Offerings at first were light and a house with eastern connections led the buying. Initial prices, which varied from ¼ to 1⅛c higher, with July $1.12⅛@1.13 and September $1.12⅛@1.13⅛, were followed by slight further gains.

Subsequently, apprehension increased regarding dry weather northwest. Besides, export demand here was said to be stronger. The close was firm, 1⅝ to 2¼c net higher, with July and September both $1.13⅞@1.14⅛.

CORN—Corn was firm with wheat. After opening ⅛ to ¼c higher, July 60¼@60½c, the market continued to harden.

Sellers were cautious owing to talk that the after planting movement of corn to market seemed to be practically over. The close was steady, ⅝ to ⅞c net higher, July 60¾@60⅞c.

OATS—Oats were neglected and inclined to sag. The market started ¼ to ⅜c to ⅝c lower, July 36⅝@36¼c, but afterwards rallied somewhat.

PROVISIONS—Provisions lacked support, notwithstanding higher quotations on hogs.

Obtains Divorce From Man Missing For Three Years

Rose Umphres was granted a decree of divorce from James E. Umphres by Disctrict Judge W. M. Morning, Wednesday. The couple was married in Lincoln in 1900, and in April, 1919, Mrs. Umphres alleged her husband went to Omaha, where he had been working, supposedly to get his clothes and did not return. Later she received a letter from Umphres stating that he was going west to look over some land and she has not heard from him since and does not know his whereabouts. Mrs. Umphres also accused her husband of having paid attentions to another woman. She was granted two court orders; one directing the Provident Saving & Loan association to deliver to Mrs. Umphres a $50 Liberty bond, which her husband had left with the company on deposit although purchased with his wife's money and the other directing the Lincoln Gas & Electric Light company to deliver to Mrs. Umphres a check for $4.75 representing the amount covering rebate appearing on the company's books as due Umphres.

Police Job Sought By Correspondence School Detective

A young man who said he was from Plattsmouth, and who carried Fred Brown's picture in his pocket, came to see Chief of Police Peter Johnstone, Wednesday morning to ask for a job as a detective. The applicant was armed with a frammed diploma awarded to him by a Kansas City Detective Agency for the successful completion of a year's correspondence course in detective work.

"I graduated last week," he explained to Captain Frank Ellis" and I want to get a job here." With these words he unwrapped an oil cloth from his framed diploma, and showed it to the captain for his inspection. The diploma certified that the young man had fulfilled all the requirements of the course, and that he was now a full-fledged detective, and recommended his services to all concerned.

Further questions elicited the discovery that the youth carried a picture of Fred Brown, the bandit, in his pocket.

"I want to help catch him," he said.

When told that his services would not be needed, the youth set off to interview some of the local detective agencies.

RATE KEPT SUGAR AWAY FROM OMAHA

Western Roads Object to Any Cut By the Southern Lines.

OMAHA, Neb., June 7.—Had it not been for threates of western carriers that they would reduce their freight rates on sugar from Denver to Omaha, the Illinois Central would have reduced its rates from New Orleans to Omaha from 73 cents to 69 cents, the rate asked by the Omaha Chamber of Commerce, M. L. Costlet, New Orleans general freight agent of that road, told I. B. Keeler, interstate commerce commission examiner here Tuesday at the sugar freight rate hearing in which the Omaha Chamber of Commerce attacked present sugar rates, which it alleges are discriminatory against Omaha.

P. M. Ripley of New York, traffic manager of the American Sugar Refining company, testified that because of the large difference between the sugar freight rates between Denver and Omaha and New Orleans and Omaha, southern refiners were practically shut out of doing business with Omaha users.

George Hoffelder of Chicago, of the traffic department of the Burlington, objected to the southern reduction, explaining that if the southern rates were reduced, and the western rates should also drop, this road, running from the south and from the west, would be forced to reduce rates from both directions.

BUMPS PREDICTED FOR ZONING LAW

Real Estate Men Take Exception to Certain Sections in Ordinance.

That the city zoning ordinance in its present form may not find altogether easy sailing during the public hearings scheduled before final passage, was indicated at the Wednesday noon meeting of the Lincoln Realtors at the Chamber of Commerce. G. W. Melville, Zoning Expert Enniss' personal representative, explained certain sections of the proposed law, some of which did not meet with anything like unanimous approval of the real estate men.

The section which designates a ten foot set-back along Fifteenth street from the capitol to the university especially came in for criticism. Certain members insisted that this would amount to confiscation of private property; would be the same as condemnation by the city or state except that the owners would not be compensated.

The special requirements around the city campus also were fully discussed. The set-back here is fifteen feet, and some few buildings are non-conforming. Mr. Melville explained that except on Fifteenth street and around the university the prevailing set-back of the majority of buildings would be accepted in place of the distance specified by the ordinance.

Whether the zoning board or the city council will be empowered to make exceptions in the application of the ordinance promises to be another contested point during the public hearings.

TENDLER MATCHED WITH LEONARD

PHILLY FIGHTER KAYOES BARRETT

Tendler Outclasses Glove Opponent; Wins Battle in Sixth Round.

TENDLER SIGNS UP FOR FIGHT WITH LEONARD.

NEW YORK, June 7.—Frank Flourney, representing Tex Rickard, returned today from witnessing Lou Tendler's knockout of Bobby Barrett in Philadelphia, with Tendler's signature to a contract to fight Benny Leonard at Boyle's Thirty Acres at Jersey City on July 20. It is said that Leonard already has accepted terms for the match and will sign without delay.

(Associated Press.)

PHILADELPHIA, June 7. — Lew Tendler, Philadelphia lightweight, last night knocked out Bobby Barrett of Clifton Heights, Pa., in the sixth round of their scheduled eight-round bout at the National league baseball park in the presence of more than 20,000 spectators, one of the biggest crowds that ever saw a boxing match in Philadelphia. The knockout came toward the close of the sixth round.

In the first round, after a cautious start, Tendler drove into Barrett with a series of swings to the body, interspersed with several sharp jabs to the face. Before the close of the round, Barrett was bleeding from the nose, and, as the gong sounded, Tendler had his opponent on the run.

Barrett Swings Wildly.

Barrett tried his most vicious swings in the second round, but Tendler was too fast for him. Tendler did little but jab Barrett in the face with his right in this round.

In the next two rounds Tendler forced Barrett to take a lot of punishment. The Philadelphian kept jabbing with rights to Barrett's face with an occasional slashing uppercut that had his opponent bleeding freely from the nose and mouth when the third round ended.

The fourth was a repetition of the third, with Barrett attempting more of his wild swings, none of which landed. Tendler in the meantime continued to hammer Barrett all over the body and several times had him staggering.

Solar Plexus Knockout.

It was a lopping left hand swing that caught Barrett full on the solar plexus, in the sixth round. He dropped to the mat, writhing with the bell rang, his seconds jumped into the ring to revive him. Many persons in the crowd believed the blow was low, but Referee Herman Taylor declared it was not. In order to keep the crowd out of the ring, where Barrett was being given a hasty medical examination, a cordon of police was thrown around the prostrate boxer. After the police had restored order Barrett was assisted to his dressing room. He was not badly hurt.

At no stage of the battle did Barrett put up an adequate defense against Tendler's rain of blows. On the other hand, Tendler's defense was almost perfect.

Manager Claims Foul.

James F. Dougherty, manager for Barrett, claimed the blow that made his man take the count was a foul and that as a result Barrett's right leg was paralyzed.

In the first preliminary, George Chaney of Baltimore, knocked out Allie Nack of New York in the opening round of their scheduled eight-round contest.

Phil K. O. Kaplan, Jersey City, gave Joe Jackson, Philadelphia, a severe hammering in the second bout and won by a wide margin.

Contender for Title.

PHILADELPHIA, June 7.—Lew Tendler of Philadelphia, today was more firmly established as a formidable contender for the crown of Benny Leonard, world lightweight boxing champion, as a result of the knockout he scored last night over Bobby Barrett of Clifton Heights, Pa. The final blow came at the end of the sixth round, the referee having counted only nine when the bell ended the round. Five minutes elapsed before Barrett was able to be assisted from the ring.

Maintaining that the blow had been low, despite the referee's decision otherwise, Barrett's father and a number of other spectators jumped into the ring. Twenty policemen rushed in and prevented trouble. A physician who examined Barrett in the ring declared no foul blow had been struck.

Barrett in Hospital.

PHILADELPHIA, June 7.—Bobby Barrett, who was knocked out in the sixth round by Lew Tendler at the Phillies' ball park last night, lies today in a local hospital suffering from paralysis as the result of the left hand punch to the body which ended the fight. His right leg is affected.

Jim Dougherty, manager for Barrett, intends to claim a foul, as it is asserted an aluminum protective piece worn under Barrett's trunks was found badly dented, which Dougherty says, is positive proof that Tendler's blow landed below the belt.

GLOVE CHAMPIONS CALLED ON CARPET

Kilbane and Wilson Notified They Must Defend Titles or Stand Suspended.

(Associated Press.)

NEW YORK, June 7.—The New York state athletic commission has served notice on Johnny Kilbane, featherweight boxing champion, and Johnny Wilson, middleweight champion, that unless they sign articles by June 20, agreeing to meet challengers for their titles, the championships claims of both would be declared forfeited, so far as the jurisdiction of the state commission is concerned.

The commission stipulated that Kilbane must accept a challenge by Johnny Dundee and that Wilson must fulfill a contract it declares he made some time ago to box Harry Greb, who recently won the light-heavyweight title by defeating Gene Tunney.

While the New York state athletic commission has no formal agreement with other boxing commissions, it was considered likely that the Kilbane-Wilson decision will be recognized in Canada and in such states as Massachusetts, New Jersey and Ohio, where boxing authorities in previous instances have worked in harmony with the New York organization.

William Muldoon, chairman of the commission, last night sharply criticized the "side-stepping" tactics of Kilbane and Wilson.

"The boxing game is a sport, not a commercial business," he declared, "and the title in any class is only an honorary designation granted by the public. It must be defended against all challengers, regardless of money considerations, and so far as this commission's jurisdiction is concerned that policy will prevail."

Kilbane Claims He's Willing.

CLEVELAND, O., June 7. — When told of the action of the New York athletic commission, Johnny Kilbane, featherweight champion, declared that he is willing to defend his title at the legitimate featherweight limit at any time and place, provided a suitable purse is offered.

Wilson Declines to Talk.

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., June 7.—Johnny Wilson, middleweight champion of the world, refused to make any comment on the report from New York that the New York state athletic commission would forfeit his title unless he fights Harry Greb within a specified time limit.

Snob II to Show Speed Saturday On Belmont Track

(Associated Press.)

NEW YORK, June 7.—All the real horses are not run in Kentucky nor are all the thoroughbred breeding stables built on plots surrounded by wild growths of bluegrass.

Eastern horsemen will strive to demonstrate this on Saturday when the Belmont stakes, a genuine test for three-year-olds, is lifted out of its ivy-grown niche in Sweing's collection of classics for its fifty-fourth showing over the beautiffled track at Belmont park. This event is important because it is a $50,000 gallop and because it is over a mile and three furlongs.

What makes it of surpassing interest this year is the entry of appraisers of horse flesh have pronounced a rival of Morvich, winner of the Kentucky derby.

Snob II has been a favorite for the Belmont for some days past and because of the promise of Burlew, Morvich's trainer, that the horse will meet Snob at Aqueduct in the Carleton, on June 17. J. S. Cosden's horse will hold the spotlight at Belmont park this week end.

Walte Hoyt's clever hurling, Bob Meusel's fourth homer of the season and a trio of sensational catches in center field by Whitey Witt combined to give the Yankees a 3 to 1 victory over the White Sox.

HALO GONE FROM GEORGES' DOME

George the "Carp" No Longer the Idol of American Fight Fans.

BY FRANK G. MENKE

(Copyrighted 1922 by King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

If Georges, the Carp, does decide to steam himself across to these shores to mix it with Harry Greb, he perhaps will suffer a certain surprise.

All the other visits of Carpentier have been welcomed with wild acclaim. He came as a conquering hero; received more adulation than any fistic person of an era; was an idol of idols.

But 1922 will be different.

Carpentier went into the Jersey City affair with Jack Dempsey hurrahed and greeted as no man ever was hurrahed and greeted before. He waged his fight with a majority of that vast audience hoping that he—a foreigner fighting against a native son—would win.

But he came out of it minus much of the glamour and the glory and the haloes tossed around him by feverish press agents. And in the eleven months since that day, the Frenchman, by one act of another, or by one discovery or another, has been sheared of most of the remaining laurel that was placed upon his brow.

Spurious War Record

Much of the praise—much of the hurrahing—that was Carpentier's came because of the belief here that he was a wonderous war hero. He may have been, but the fact remains that the Frenchman never yet has made answer to the public challenge of Seargent Mike Donaldson to produce his war record.

Donaldson, one of the real heroes of the war, declared that Carpentier did not participate in any battles; that his main army duty was to appear in boxing exhibitions in the camps; that Carpentier strutted the streets of Paris oftener than he tramped around the abodes of fighting man.

And yet America, which now ignores countless thousands of its own war heroes, broken, and crippled for life, went into raptures over this Frenchman, who posed as a great hero—and who was called "a boulevard hero" by Donaldson—and others.

Accussed of "Laying Down."

Carpentier pranced into Jersey City heralded as a world beater; a game, courageous, truly marvelous and man killing person. He came out of it regarded as a punching bag and tainted with the suspicion that rather than take further punishment, he deliberately took a fourth round laydown.

Afterward that thought was quite confirmed by statements made by that dear, dear, oh, dear Francois Deschamps, who remarked that Georges wasn't completely out in the fourth, but, realizing that he couldn't win, tok the easiest way out.

That's the fighter certain Americans went wild about.

After Georges got back to his native health, the public persons awoke to a fact which was obvious long before to all except those made blind by their war-hero worship—that Carpentier on all his trips here simply played the sucker American public for all he could get.

Grabbed Fortune in U. S.

And what a fortune that presumed war hero and presumed pugilistic wonder took away with him.

Carpentier may come back to America to mix it with Greb or someone else. And, of course, there'ss be some to acclaim him. But no more will he get a tumult of greetings; no more will his every appearance provoke a thunder of applause. For he hasn't proved yet that he's a real fighter in any fighting endeavor of life; he's proved nothing except that he he figures that foolish Americans and their money soon are parted.

If Carpentier ever does return to this country to fightan American, it will be under different conditions that when he faced Dempsey. He won't be the hero of the hour; he won't be an idol—false or otherwise. He'll just be a foreigner over here, trying ot beat up one of our own boys.

Wrath of Suckers Aroused.

And those, at the ringside, who remember all that's gone before, won't be "pulling" for the Frenchman. She'll be roting with all that's in them for whatever American fights him to hammer him fórever into puglistic obscurity.

For the wrath of a sucker, when finaly aroused, is furnace-like in its fervor and intensity.

Meet Us Face to Face
AT
East Lawn Terrace
We will be there every evening and all day Sunday at the tent office
W. E. WOODS
CHAS. OWEN

If you can trust your own judgment, if you can believe your own eyes,

If you can invest a small sum monthly, if you desire to escape the grasping landlords, or if you have ever dreamed of owning your own little home, you will do well to see us, as we can help you in either of these cases.

DO NOT BE DECEIVED

Make sure that all improvements such as sidewalks, sewer, trees, water, gas and electricity are paid for by the firm you buy from, not by you. Summer lasts but a few months, you want paved streets now. You want a lot that is accessable, a lot you can reach in all kinds of weather.

Build your home amidst congenial surroundings. During the last thirty days practically all lots sold have been sold to Lincoln people, the great majority of whom have expressed their intention of building this year. These people are neither millionaires nor paupers. You will not be snubbed by your neighbors nor ashamed to associate with them.

While this sale has been very successful we still have some very desirable locations remaining.

Calle at the office, 103 Terminal Bldg., phone B2121 for automobile, or Drive east on A street to Normal Boulevard, then south along the Boulevard until you see our tent and sign. Or take Normal street car and get off at city fare limit, then walk east across Antelope Park (about 2 blocks) until you reach Normal Boulevard. Look for tent and sign.

FEDERAL AGENTS SCOUR EUROPE

Search for Men Wanted in Probe of War Fraud Cases.

Alaskan Flays Daugherty Unmercifully for Remark Regarding Pirates.

(International News Service.)

WASHINGTON, June 7.—A number of government agents have been sent abroad to round up men wanted in the investigation of war contract frauds and who fled the country some months ago, it became known today.

The identity of the men sought or the cases they are connected with is carefully guarded by the department.

The special grand jury now sitting in the capital continued its deliberations today behind a mantle of secrecy erected by the government's attorney. Information as to whether an indictment had been issued against John Lewis Phillips, millionaire Georgia lumberman, and the chairman of the republican state committee, was still withheld, although Phillips is at liberty on $25,000 bail following his arrest on a warrant issued by the department of justice.

Meanwhile, Attorney General Daugherty was attacked from a new quarter today — Dan Sutherland, representative in congress from Alaska, "Alaska Fisheries pirates." In a communication to the department Sutherland said the "arrogant, selfish and avaricious pirates" are not located in Alaska, "but in Chicago, Seattle, Portland and San Francisco," and that if the courts will punish these it will lead to a more wholesome respect for laws by all classes in Alaska.

Attorney General Daugherty's reference to a "reign of bolshevism" along the Alaskan coast was characterized by Sutherland as a "tissue of lies and falsehoods" put out by the "real autocratic Romanoffs of Alaska, who for years have monopolized patriotism and made it a chief weapon of exploitation."

60,000 Samples of Yucatan Gum Being Distributed Here

Have you had your gum today? Sixty thousand samples of Yucatan chewing gum will be distributed in Lincoln stores, office buildings and theatres this week.

The crew working in Lincoln is composed of R. L. Stephenson, in charge, and F. A. Tomberin, T. A. McClain and M. StLeon.

This is part of a national campaign recently instituted by the American Chicle company. At the present time eighteen different crews are distributing Yucatan in various parts of the country.

Canaday Third Demo. In Fifth to Enter Race for Congress

J. S. Canaday, of Minden, who was at one time talked of as a candidate for governor, today made his personal filing with the secretary of state as a democratic candidate for congress from the Fifth district. He is the third democratic candidate in that district for congressional honors. The others are A. C. Shallenberger, former governor, and Joy E. Bute, of Stratton. On the republican side, Congressman W. E. Andrews is running for renomination and is the only republican in the field.

LAWYERS ASSERT COURT'S DECISION INCLUDES CO-OPS

Declares Farmers' Societies Are Menaced Equally With Labor Unions.

Ruling Virtually Sets Aside Immunity Clauses Of Two Laws.

(International News Service.)

WASHINGTON, June 7.—Decision by the United States supreme court that a labor union can be sued under the anti-trust law, admitted by labor leaders to be the greatest single blow ever experienced by organized labor, was held today to be equally menacing to the organized farmers' movement which has been growing in the United States at astonishing speed in the last few years.

This realization came to agricultural interests in congress with startling suddenness today. Members of the farm bloc engaged in studying the decision, and its individual members admittedly could see no reason why the court's decision was not equally applicable to farmers' co-operative movements.

The more study that is applied to Chief Justice Taft's opinion the more alarming it becomes to agricultural and labor interests, according to their representatives in congress. Samuel Gompers' description of it as labor's greatest blow is fully reflected and endorsed by members of the two blocs.

The Taft decision, it was said today by legal authorities, virtually wipes out the immunity clause contained in that paragraph of the Sherman and Clayton laws, which specifically sets forth that labor unions and farmers' unions are not liable to the penalty provisions contained in it.

For example, it was pointed out, if a farmer's co-operative association of which there are hundreds throughout the country, should use repressive measure in disciplining members or obtaining members they can be sued.

A number of senators, all lawyers, privately expressed the opinion that if a co-operative association refused to accept a farmers' grain and he could prove that he suffered financial loss thereby, he would be entitled to sue for damages. This would be a body blow to the coperative scheme of marketing, which has grown with such rapidity in western states.

Mrs. Harding will be assisted in receiving the veterans by fifty young women employes of the veterans' bureau, representing the 48 states, the district of Columbia and Hawaii.

MINERVA'S MAIL
Take Your Troubles to Minerva

The Assay of Life

Dear Minerva: Straight is the line of duty, curved is the line of beauty; if you follow the first the second will follow on. The law of cause and effect is unchangeable and invariable. What are the causes which result in happiness in old age? Does one follow the path of duty, thinking right thoughts, speaking kind words and doing great deeds? The harvest will certainly be a serene and happy old age. But if one craves pleasure, longs to satisfy selfish ambitions, seek with selfish greed the wealth of this world, then the harvest will surely be barren regrets. If the young could be made to realize that idle thoughts, unkind words and wrong deeds leave an impress on the character, a poisonous stain which can never be erased, they would certainly lay the foundations of their lives more wisely, knowng that by so doing they will arrive at a peaceful old age. The selfish will finally reach a hell from which there is no escape, neither in this existence or hereafter. If one follows the selfish cleaving to things of this world, he will always be a slave to his own cravings and can never become master of himself. A constant condition oif unhappiness is the inevitable result.—S. V. G.

Swimming Lessons

Dear Minerva: I and a number of my girl friends are very anxious to learn to swim this summer but the trouble is, we hate to go to any of the outdoor public swimming pools to learn as they are so conspicious. I have heard that the swimming pool at the high school has been open to outsiders during the winter and I was wondering if it will be open this summer and if it is possible for a girl who does not attend high school to enjoy the use of the pool.—MARY.

A. The high school swimming pool has been open on certain evenings to the public and it is my understanding that it will be open during the summer. You and your friends may go there and learn how to swim without feeling self-conscious before a crowd of spectators.

A Girl's Problem

Dear Minerva: About four years ago my mother died and as my father had died nearly ten years before, I was left an orphan. Fortunately, I was a good stenographer and was capable of supporting myself as I have done for more than six years. About six months ago I came to Lincoln to accept what seemed to me to be a much better position than the one I had in the small city where I lived, but my trouble since I have come here is to find the right kind of pleasure. I am not old but that I like dates and I have had quite a number, meeting men whom I think are honorable and worthy. Naturally I have been obliged to room at rooming houses and unthinkingly, when a friend brought me home from a show, I asked him to my room for a few minutes just as I would asked him to come into my house if I had lived in a home. I did this a few times and my landlady told me I must leave, insulting me by intimating that I was not the sort of a girl roomer she wanted. I got another place to room, but this blow started me to thinking. Since then I have asked no one to visit me in my room. But Minerva, what is a girl going to do? My idea of friendship does not consist of simply going to shows or walking or riding with a man friend. I never realized before what a home meant to a girl and what deprivations result if one is without one. I would appreciate any advice which you might give me.—ALICE.

A. I understand the landlady's viewpoint and can not criticise her for refusing you your accommodation. On the other hand, I understand your predicament and sympathize thoroughly with you. It seems to me that you might be able to find a place to room, at least, in a private home where the family would give you occasional use of their living room or where at least you could have callers without violating any of the laws of custom.

A Curious Question

Dear Minerva: One of the things which I never can understand is why women and girls are forever the center of criticism concerning their dress while man is always exempt. The modern girl is dressing more comfortably and more healthfully than ever before, or at least since the old Roman and Grecian days when women wore robes. Grandmother bothered about in all ridiculous hoop skirt and mother nearly ruined her health by pinching herself to death in tight belts and corsets. The modern girl dresses so that her body has its natural freedom of motion. As for looks or appearance, that is all a matter of habit. New styles always look silly and cause comment, but a girl walking down O street today, dressed in the style of 1900, would cause a great deal more comment than when the 1922 girl first showed the world that she had ankles and calves.

As for man, he dresses as foolishly as women did a score of years ago. With his high and tight-fitting collar, his trousers hanging hideously about his waist and his stiff, straw hats, can he honestly and sincerely say anything about woman's dress? He is certainly revealing a narrow mind when he does. And yet the fact remains, girls are forever criticised because of the way they dress and for some unknown and illogical reason the men dress worse and get away with it.—FLAPPER.

SHE HEADS ONLY WOMAN'S COLLEGE IN NEAR EAST

Dr. Mary Mills Patrick.

Dr. Mary Mills Patrick, president of the Constantinople Woman's college, the only college for women in the near east, is visiting this country in behalf of her school. Five hundred women of twenty nationalities attend the college, which was established in 1871 with eighteen students.

Under Treaty Draft Soviets Make Land Grant to Italians

ROME, June 7.—The Italian-Russian commercial treaty agreed upon at Genoa last month, contains a clause whereby Russia grants to an Italian company 25,000 acres in the north Caucasus or at the mouth of the river Don, or the river Dnieper, at the choice of the concessionaires. The agreement is for a term of twenty-four years with privilege of renewal for a like period.

Russia has reserved the right to re-take the land after sixteen years by giving notice at the end of nine years and paying such lidemnity as may be jointly agreed upon.

The company must give Russia 15 per cent of the cereals raised on the land and from 15 to 20 per cent of the cattle.

Sun Orders Army To Capture Kian Without Delay

SHANGHAI, China, June 7.—The forces of the southern China republic were reported today to be making a hurried attempt to capture the strategic city of Kian before the arrival of reinforcements from the north to aid General Chen Kuang Yuan, tuchon of Kiangsi, who has been ordered by Wu Pei-Fu a general offensive against Sun Yat Sen's army.

The success attained by the Canton armies in Kiangsi has alarmed Wu Pei Fu, according to reports received here. The Kiangsi troops have refused to oppose the southern forces because their pay is in arrears.

According to the Chinese press, Dr. Sun Yat Sen doubts the sincerity of Wu Pei-Fu in seeking re-unification and will advance his campaign until the extent of Wu's sincerity is ascertained.

Lenine Becomes Suddenly Worse

LONDON, June 7.—The condition of Lenine became worse last night and Prof. Klemperer, a noticed specialist, urgently summoned, left Berlin for Moscow, in an airplane, according to an Exchange Telegraph dispatch today from Copenhagen.

VICTORY JOLTS IOWA OLD GUARD

Brookhart Has 41.1 Per Cent of Vote and Machine Up In Air.

Thorne, Another Progressive Slides Into Second Place, Pickett Third.

(Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, June 7.—Republican organization support for Smith W. Brookhart, nominated as the republican candidate for United States senator in Monday's primary in Iowa, was pledged in a statement issued today by Senator McCormick of Illinois, chairman of the republican senatorial campaign committee. Brookhart defeated the commonly known organization candidates in the primary.

Victory Jolts Old Guard.

DES MOINES, June 7.—Non-committal acceptance at Washington by Senator Cummins and Rawson of Iowa the news of the Smith W. Brookhart landslide for United States senator aroused speculation in old guard circles here today as to how Brookhart will fit into the republican party machinery.

Returns from 2,235 Iowa precincts out of 2,348 for the republican senatorial nomination emphasized the progressive victory giving Brookhart 41.1 per cent of the total vote cast and sent Clifford Thorne, another progressive, into second place above Charles E. Pickett, the old guard candidate. The tally now gives Sweet, 33,962 and Stanley, 12,641.

The fact that Cummins defeated Brookhart for senator two years ago, after a campaign in which the latter attacked Cummns' railroad legislation record will not tend to bring harmony into the Iowa senatorial delegation, politicians pointed out.

Despite refusal by many old guard republicans to accept Brookhart's decisive victory over such stand-pat wheelhorses as Pickett, as an old guard reversal, a silence reigned today concerning the plans of the state republican organization for the ensuing campaign against Clyde L. Herring, the democratic nominee. Senator Rawson, who was considered a compromise possibility in the event the nomination had gone to the state convention, is still head of the state republican organization.

COUNTY IS ROBBED.

NEBRASKA CITY, Neb., June 7.—The tractor used by Otoe county on road work and parked over night near Paul, had its tool box broken into and all the tools stolen; together with about fifty gallon of gas and oil. The matter was reported to the sheriff.

Plenty of Room For Shriners at San Francisco

SAN FRANCISCO, June 7.—Hundreds of caravans made up of members of the Ancient Arabic Order, Nobles of the Mystic Shrine now headed westward with San Francisco as their mecca and scene of the 1922 convention, will not be required to pitch their tents by the Golden Gate.

Definite assurances that San Francisco will provide ample housing facilities for delegates and visitors to the convention were given today when the Shrine housing committee announced that accommodations listed in private homes insure quarters for the overflow crowds from downtown hoteles.

Issues Warrant For Arrest of a Young Heiress

MUSKOGEE, Okla., June 7.—A warrant from Ardmore was received by Sheriff J. D. Robinson, for the arrest of Opal Rexroat Kinney, Ardmore, Okla., heiress and principal in a sensational runaway marriage charging her with assisting and abetting a fugitive from justice. Mrs. Kinney's husband was arrested here yesterday on a charge of deserting the child of a former wife in Morris county, Kansas.

IN LONDON FOR FOR CONFERENCE

Griffith Returns to Capital With New Draft of Constitution.

(International News Service.)

LONDON, June 7.—Premier Lloyd-George came to London today from his Welch home at Criecieth, arriving almost simultaneously with Arthur Griffith, who came from Dublin bearing the revised constitution of the Irish Free State.

It is believed that an important announcement will be made by the government some time during the day.

Arthur Griffith presented the revised constitution to Winston Churchill, secretary for the colonies. It was reported unofficially in government circles that it included these provisions:

An oath of fealty to Great Britain.

Recognition of the authority of the governor general.

Recognition of the authority of the privy council.

Recognition of British control of foreign relations.

Today's conference primarily is with Churchill. Some time tomorrow—or Friday at the latest—it is expected that the constitution will be submitted to a full meeting of the British diplomats for their approval.

Launder your silk underwear the gentle way that keeps it looking new

IT used to be rather a trial to go into the shops and see them—exquisite underthings of shimmering silk and delicate lace.

But what was the use, you asked yourself mournfully, of getting the adorable things only to have them ruined the first time they were washed. Silk is perishable, unless it is properly cared for; careless laundering will quickly ruin it. Just the suds from a harsh soap or harsh soap flake can affect delicate colors, and coarsen fine textures. Rubbing will rough up and fray the tiny, silk threads.

But with Lux it is so easy to keep your most charming things perfect, your very frilliest apple-blossom chemise, your nightdresses of corn and lotus pink.

The Lux flakes whisk instantly into a creamy, bubbly lather that gently lifts the dirt out. Lux suds are just as delicate as the perishable color or fabric—they can't injure anything that pure water alone won't harm.

The gentle Lux cleansing will keep your silk underthings fresh and new through innumerable washings. Get a box today from your grocer, druggist or department store.
